Hurricane Winds Head Toward Florida's Rich Citrus Belt; Two Dead

Lake Okeechobee Farm Area Threatened

Havana, Cuba, Sept. 22 (AP)— Six persons were reported killed in Monday night's hurricane which hit Cuba before it moved on to Florida. Reestablishment of communications in the stricken area brought reports of damage amounting to more than $3,000,000.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 22 (AP)—A tricky tropical hurricane swirled through the Florida Everglades early today and headed for the heart of the state's rich citrus belt.

Two persons were killed and many injured, mostly by flying glass or debris. Winds reached 160 miles an hour in gusts at Key West. Highest winds on the Florida mainland were an estimated 125 miles an hour at Everglades city.

Hurricane winds (75 miles an hour and upward) thrashed Miami and the lush lower east coast resort area as the "eye" of the storm bobbed across the Everglades, 50 miles to the west.

Moving north northeast at eight miles an hour, the storm headed for the citrus region in central Florida, where millions of trees are heavy with ripening fruit.

Threat To Farms

Winds increased in central Florida and the storm's present course would split the state in a north northeasterly direction from Everglades city to Daytona Beach, reaching the Atlantic coast late today.

The storm offered a grave threat to the vegetable farming area on the southern and eastern shores of Lake Okeechobee. Evacuation trains went in to take out refugees, but reports indicated most residents preferred to stay and take their chances, confident that the great levee around the lake would hold.

Miami had winds of 65 miles an hour in sustained velocity and

Indictment Of Atom Conspirators Asked

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP)—House investigators primed three different legal weapons today for possible use against persons they link to wartime atomic espionage.

Heading the list was a recommendation by Rep. McDowell (R-Pa), acting chairman of the un-American Activities committee, that three witnesses be indicted because they "conspired to transfer important military secrets to a foreign nation, namely Russia."

Beyond saying that two are scientists, McDowell refused to identify any of the three witnesses. They had testified at closed-door committee sessions.

A subcommittee already has recommended that the full group seek a contempt of Congress citation against Steve Nelson, a Communist party organizer in Pennsylvania. Nelson refused to answer committee questions on grounds that he might incriminate himself.

Possibility of still another legal move stemmed from McDowell's statement that the committee has received conflicting testimony from several witnesses. "It looks," he said, "as though perjury has been committed."

But before taking any action, he added, "we want to sift it out first, and try to untangle some things."

McDowell said the committee probably will not be able to reach a decision on these matters—and on whether to hold public hearings on atomic espionage—before the end of this week, since several members are out of town.

Top Soviet Officials Meet Secretly, Belief

Many Are Conspicuous By Their Absence

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP)—American diplomats think there may be a secret conference of top Soviet bloc officials underway in Russia.

Reports from several capitals that a number of leaders in the Satellite countries appear to be out of circulation indicate to U. S. officials that such a strategy meeting either is in progress or has just ended.

One eastern European leader is known to be in Russia on "vacation." Officials here speculate that the others might also have been there—for a meeting of the Cominform, or conferences with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov.

Molotov was the only one of the Big Four foreign ministers who did not go to Paris for the United Nations general assembly session.

Communist officials reported to be absent from eastern European capitals include Anna Pauker, Romania's foreign minister, and George Dimitrov, Bulgarian prime minister.

Czechoslovakia's President Klement Gottwald has gone to Russia, ostensibly for a vacation at a Crimean Black Sea coastal resort. But responsible officials here said there have been unconfirmed reports he has been seen in Moscow.

Also missing for a time was Mathew Rakosi, Hungarian deputy prime minister and a leader in the Communist overturn of last year. But a dispatch from Budapest said he was seen there in public on Monday.

Autumn Arrives at 10:22 Tonight and It Feels Like It

(By The Associated Press)

Autumn heralded its emminent arrival in Michigan today with freezing temperatures.

With the new season officially due at 10:22 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time), summer was saying good-bye in a crisp manner.

Temperatures were as much as five degrees below freezing in northern sections.

It was 27 degrees at Cadillac. At Calumet in the northern Peninsula it was 30 while it was 31 at Pellston.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said it would continue cool tonight and be "a little warmer" Thursday.

Engine Hits Car Stalled On Track

Jackson, Sept. 22 (AP)—Arthur Gordon, 60, (911 Drury Lane) Lansing, has a broken right leg and his wife a fractured left kneecap, the results of an accident in which a Michigan Central engine struck their car here Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Earl Rathbun and Mrs. Richard Perkins both of Lansing, escaped unhurt.

Gordon was driving Richard Perkins' car, which stalled on the railroad track. The party was returning from a funeral at Adrian. All four occupants scrambled from the car as the engine neared. The Gordons failed to escape however, in time to avoid being clipped by the car as the engine hit it.

SANTA LETTER EARLY

Kalamazoo, (AP)—The local post office has already received a Santa Claus letter, destined for the North Pole. The young writer said, "Please bring me a windup train. I wanted a train a year ago, but I guess you didn't have enough, so I am ordering one early this year."

Progressive Note: Wallace Says He'll Not Run in 1952

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace said last night the Progressive Party "is not going to go out in 1948," but indicated he did not expect personally to be a candidate in 1952.

Speaking at a $100-a-plate dinner of the business men for Wallace committee, he appealed to his audience to help bring out leadership he said the new party will need if it survives.

Wallace virtually bowed out as the Party's 1952 candidate, saying he did not want the New Party to be a one-man party like Theodore Roosevelt's bull moose and Robert M. LaFollette's Progressive parties.

"This is not a party that depends on any personality," he said.

Israeli Rulers Cracking Down; Irgun Group Quits

Haifa, Israel, Sept. 22. (AP)— Reliable sources said today members of the outlawed Stern gang have made at least indirect threats against the life of Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, acting United Nations mediator in Palestine. Bunche, an American, has taken over the duties of Count Folke Bernadotte, assassinated last Friday in Jerusalem.

Jerusalem, Sept. 22 (AP)—Irgun Zvai Leumi, the hard-fighting Jewish extremist group, has turned in its guns and closed up shop.

The Israeli government ordered the dissolution of Irgun and continued its crack-down on the Stern gang, a similar outfit. It crushed both forces in the wake of Friday's slaying of Count Folke Bernadotte, U. N. mediator, and Col. Andre Serot, his French aide.

Moshe Dayan, Israeli Jerusalem commander, told newsmen last night that Irgunists who refuse to join the Israeli army will be treated like ordinary draft dodgers.

Irgun accepted the ultimatum unconditionally. Its guns were taken to Israeli army arsenals in army trucks and Israeli troops went into the Irgun compound in suburban Katamon to keep order. Jerusalem was the only Palestine city where Irgun had continued as an underground force in recent months.

Dayan received the underground organization's capitulation a few hours after Israeli troops had barricaded all streets leading to the Irgun compound.

Irgunists helped load their own weapons on army trucks. Many still wore the emblem of their organization.

Reaction of the underground fighters was mingled. Some took the attitude "what does it matter, it's orders." One glum Irgunist told a newsman: "You haven't heard the last of us."

In Tel Aviv Israeli newspapers stirred public resentment against the last proposals by Bernadotte for the U. N. imposed settlement of the Arab-Jewish struggle in Palestine.

Newspapers of all political shades demanded rejection of any concessions suggested by Bernadotte.

Louisiana May Permit President On Ballot

State Legislators May Restore His Name

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 22. (AP)—President Truman's chance to try on even terms for Louisiana's ten electoral votes today was in the hands of the state's legislators, gathering here for a suddenly summoned special session.

Gov. Earl K. Long called them on one day's notice to consider restoring Mr. Truman's name to the state ballot from which it was stricken by the Democratic state central committee on Sept. 10.

The suddenness of the summons and the hour set for convening—10 p. m. tonight, reminded Louisianians of the urgent special sessions that marked the regime of the governor's brother, the late Huey P. Long.

School Lunch! It's An Assembly Line For Mrs. Campbell

Gillespie, Ill., Sept. 22 (AP) — School lunch packing is an assembly-line job for Mrs. John Campbell, jr.

The 39-year-old housewife's husband is janitor at Gillespie community high school. Then there's Thomas, 14; Delores, 13; Richard, 12; Robert 11; Billy, 10; Jimmie 7, and Betty Ann, 6, who also carry lunches to school.

The eldest daughter, Mary Jane, 18, is the only one who misses a home-packed lunch. She's a student nurse in Springfield, Ill.

NOMINEES SHIFTED

State Political Parties Begin Sparring For Places On Tickets

(By The Associated Press)

With both Republican and Democratic conventions only three days away, candidates began mapping campaign strategy in earnest today.

There was sparring for places on the tickets of Gov. Kim Sigler, Republican, and his Democratic opponent, wealthy G. Mennen Williams of Grosse Pointe Farms.

The Republican state convention will be held in Detroit Saturday while the Democrats will hold theirs the same day in Flint. Candidates for four offices—secretary of state, auditor general, state treasurer and attorney general—will be named at the conventions.

Williams already has announced plans for a 25-day campaign swing through Michigan in "an intensive effort to get out the vote."

His drive starts Sept. 27 at Mackinaw City and ends Oct. 22.

Gov. Sigler has not yet announced his campaign plans.

Abbott Undecided

Williams, seeking to draw factions of the Democratic party together after last week's primary, has asked Burnett J. Abbott, an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, to accept a place on his ticket.

But at his home at Albion, Abbott said he was "undecided" whether to accept.

"I've still a few days before the convention to make up my mind," Abbott said. He added he did not know what place Williams had in mind.

There was no indication whether a place also had been offered to Victor E. Bucknell of Kalamazoo, likewise an unsuccessful gubernatorial candidate.

On the Republican side, the scramble is on for the attorney general spot being vacated by Eugene F. Black, bitter critic of the Sigler administration.

M. E. Orr Announces

At West Branch, Melvin E. Orr, veteran Ogemaw county prosecutor, announced he would seek the attorney general post.

"My campaign was launched because of my many friends who have urged me to get into the race," Orr said. "So far, the response has been very favorable."

In addition to Orr, only Stuart B. White, Michigan public service commission chairman, apparently is left in the race for the attorney generalship.

Owen J. (Pat) Cleary, state liquor control commission chairman, announced his withdrawal form the race as did Auditor General Murl K. Aten and State Treasurer D. Hale Brake.

Brake said he "preferred" his present jjob, while Aten said he also liked his old post, but added:

"If the delegates feel I would be of more service as attorney general, I would gladly accept the nomination."

Meantime, top Republicans prepared for the Friday visit to Detroit of Gov. Earl Warren of California, the GOP vice presidential nominee. He follows former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen, who opened the GOP's national campaign in Detroit in the wake of President Truman's Labor Day appearance.

Dewey Promises Formula To Stop New World War

USSR Given Week To Fix Berlin Stand

U. N. Assembly Begins Organizing

Paris, Sept. 22 (AP)—The western powers gave the Soviet Union another week today to come to an agreement on the Berlin situation before they take the issue to the United Nations, well informed French sources said.

As the United Nations general assembly began organizing itself for the Autumn session, the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France agreed on the general outlines of a note that may be sent to Moscow sometime this week, these sources said.

Top-ranking diplomatic and military advisers of the three western nations will meet again to study the text of the message to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, the sources said.

They described the message as proposing a four-power directive to the military commanders in Germany concerning the crucial question of Berlin's currency.

U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman have scheduled another meeting for sometime next week when, presumably, they would have the reply from Moscow.

At next week's meeting, it was reliably reported, the three western ministers may decide to take the question of the Berlin blockade and its allied headaches to the U. N. security council if the Russian reply is view as unsatisfactory.

A definite decision on the dispatch of the note to Molotov was delayed, it was said, until the foreign ministers have had an opportunity to confer with their respective envoys in Moscow—U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, special British representative Frank Roberts, and French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau.

All three envoys are scheduled to arrive in Paris today by plane.

Russia Playing Shell Game In Korea Action

Reds Would Rush Back In, MacKenzie Says

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

That's an interesting though not particularly adroit exhibition of the old shell-game given by Russia in announcing that she will withdraw her troops from Northern Korea by the new year, and calling on Uncle Sam to pull out of the South.

On the face of it this is a big-hearted gesture of amity, and is calculated thus to impress the unwary. However, we may be quite sure that if American troops did withdraw from Southern Korea, the Bolshevists would move to take over quicker than you could lose a silver dollar by trying to guess which shell the elusive pea is under.

This isn't to say that the United states might not decide to withdraw. That's a dish which still is on the fire. There are two schools of thought on this subject of withdrawal. One holds that it would be a strategic error to pull out. The other maintains that it's a mistake to stay since there is such a thing as spreading your strength too thin, and furthermore America has military forces in neighboring Japan.

Whether Russia will indeed withdraw if the United States does not, remains to be seen. The Muscovites might pull back across the frontier into Manchuria in any event. And why not? Northern Korea has been thoroughly communized.

Skunk Enters Door Intended for Cat

Nutley, N. J., Sept. 22 (AP)—The Frederick Heidt family installed a little swinging door in their kitchen so their cat could go in and out at will.

The other day a furry stranger used the special entrance.

The disturbed family called police who snared the skunk and shot it.

En route to Albuquerque Dewey, Sept. 22 (AP)—A for for preventing a new world was promised today by Thomas E. Dewey as he cut a the southwest for a vital pres tial campaign speech at Albuq que tonight.

The Republican preside nominee planned in his third mal address to tell the co just how he proposes to esta a "just and lasting peace."

At the same time, his secre Paul Lockwood, said the York governor will lay dow blue print at Albuquerque achieving at home "stable constantly improving econ conditions" which would "a a disasterous inflation followe collapse."

Strangely enough this dis sion by Dewey of what he sai regards as "fundamental p lems" of the country was no be broadcast nationally, but t carried only on a New Me state radio hookup.

Foreign Policy Preview

Neither, his aides said, had communicated with John F Dulles, his foreign affairs adv by the special teletype system up to keep Dewey abreast developments of the Paris m ing of the United Nations ass bly.

Dewey gave an overflow a ence in Denver's 4,000-seat a torium last night a preview some of his ideas on foreign cy.

He predicted that to the than 100 serious problems he face the U. N. assembly "may added action on the critical si tion in Berlin."

Calling for a "strong and sistent" foreign policy, the publican presidential nominee clared:

"It is my firm belief that country should never again s to wobble in foreign affairs that dictators may think us w and irresolute. We must not have the strength of freedom- need leadership which knows to use this power to build las peace."

Combat Inflation

In his discussions of econ conditions, Dewey already is record as predicting that from facing collapse—this cou "is at the threshold of an great period of expansion."

He called in his pre-nomina campaign for a reduction in ernment spending as one of greatest single measures t could be taken to combat i tion.

The cheering welcome to ver given Dewey by an estim 45,000 persons who lined streets on his arrival was ca in a prediction of Senator Eu Millikin, Republican, that GOP nominee will carry Colo by a margin of 75,000 votes in vember.

As Dewey turned southw the prospects of Republican tory seemed less likely in Mexico.

Agriculture Not Political Issue, Earl Warren Says

En Route with Warren to Louisville, Ky., Sept. 22 (AP)—Gov. Earl Warren put up to the farming mid-west today a proposal to place the nation's farm problems on a non-political basis.

An overflow Republican gathering in St. Louis last night roared its approval when he said agriculture is not a "political issue," and ridiculed what he termed President Truman's picturization of Republicans as "pitchfork conspirators."

Developing the non-partisan, national unity theme he expounded in Salt Lake City to launch his campaign, the Republican vice presidential candidate asserted:

"The Democratic party has never had, does not have now, and they can't honestly claim, a proprietorship over agriculture.

"Agriculture isn't a political issue. It's a vital element in our national life calling for consideration without partisanship. We can do it with both political parties working together."

200,000 Fish Die; State Regulating Cyanide Waste Dump

Lansing, Sept. 22 (AP)—Stirred by the killing of an estimated 200,000 fish on the Kalamazoo river Sept. 4, the State Stream Control commission Tuesday debated imposing a state-wide regulation on the discharge of cyanide wastes into public waters.

The commission asked its staff to study the feasibility of the state regulation and instructed it to work against a recurrence of the killing. The city of Albion was asked to pass an ordinance limiting the amount of cyanide which may be dumped into the Kalamazoo river.

L. F. Oeming, commission engineer, reported his belief that the fish were killed by cyanide originating at the Union Steel Products company of Albion. He said the company denied responsibility but conceded it had lost an amount of the poison through a hose breakage.

A Sept. 2 fish killing on the Chippewa river still has not been explained, Oeming said.

The commission took a swing at both Bay City and Saginaw to speed up compliance with "clean up" orders.

Bay City was asked to outline what further steps it plans this year to meet a commitment to spend $600,000 in the first year of a five-year sewage control plan. Oeming said the city had spent only $60,000 this year.

The commission's legal counsel was instructed to obtain a promised consent decree in the Saginaw county circuit court to insure completion of Saginaw's sewage disposal system by May of 1951.

WELFARE COSTS RISE WITH HCL

Fewer Jobs Also Factor In Bigger Case Load

The increased cost of living and the problem of fewer jobs in the after-war period has caused both the cost and the caseload number of the public assistance department to rise in the past few months, Fedele Fauri, a former Crystal Falls man who is now library consultant to the Congress in Washington, D. C., told 400 delegates to the state convention of social workers and supervisors here yesterday.

Fauri said there are now 5,000,000 persons receiving some form of assistance under the four-way Federal public assistance program, at a cost of $1,750,000,000 yearly. Of that amount, $1,100,000,000 is spent for 2,400,000 persons in the United States receiving old age assistance. Under the Aid to Dependent Children program, $352,000,000 was given to 1,600,000 persons or 450,000 families. Sixty-six thousand blind persons received $33,000,000 under the public assistance program and 700,000 persons on direct relief received $200,000,000

Several Recommendations

There are 60,000,000 workers in the United States, the former U. P. resident told the convention audience.

Assistance programs are being liberalized, and this movement has received impetus from a study made by a House subcommittee, and the reports of the 17-man Senate committee under Harold Stettinius.

Among recommendations of the latter committee were extension of coverage for old age and survivors insurance; increased benefits; a system of assistance and insurance which will mature quickly and pay high benefits readily; increase the taxable wage level from $3,000 to $4200; liberatization of eligibility requirements; a drop in age limit for assistance for women to 60; provision for old age assistance to persons in public medical institutions; and definite participation in assistance programs by the Federal government.

Some states, the speaker told, are not able to adequately provide assistance for their aged, disabled, or families left destitute by premature death. In the report submitted by the Senate sponsored 17-man committee of businessmen, labor representatives, professors and community leaders, instances of counties where only $2.50 was paid monthly were found.

A higher rate of employment during the war years curtailed public assistance considerably, both directly and indirectly. Some persons were able to secure employment, while others were cared for by relatives who were earning more money.

Congress, Fauri said, has recognized public assistance programs and realizes that it is the 'last line of defense' in protection of workers. Insurance programs thus far have not functioned as well as expected, and, there is always a backlog of cases which can not qualify under insurance provisions, the speaker told his audience.

Harry Trainor of Houghton, president of the state association of social welfare workers and county board of supervisors, presided at the session yesterday afternoon. Meetings of the convention, which will be held here through Thursday, are held in William Bonifas auditorium.

Mayor Robert LeMire extended a welcome to the delegates at the meeting yesterday, and Rev. James Ward said the invocation.

Escanaba Eagles Plan Program of Winter Activities

A program of events for the coming winter is being planned by the Escanaba Eagles club, including dart ball, bowling, and weekly dancing parties.

It was decided at the regular meeting of the Eagles last night that starting Sept. 28, next meeting, the meetings will be advanced to 8 p. m. for the winter months.

George Walker, supervisor of the recreation committee, assisted by J. E. L'Heureaux, is arranging a program of sporting events, including volley ball, dart ball, and bowling. James O'Connell has charge of the Junior dart ball players, boys between the ages of 12 and 18.

A membership drive was announced by Worthy President Mike O'Donnell, with prizes for the members introducing the largest number of candidates before Dec. 1. The initiation class will be held the second week in October.

Werner A. Olson was appointed lunch committee chairman, who announced that lunch will be served at the Sept. 28 meeting At that meeting final plans will be made for serving fish fries and holding weekly dancing parties.

Mrs. Rachel Hillyer, Pioneer Of Escanaba, Dies At Age Of 90

Mrs. Rachel D. (Miracle) Hillyer, 90, 502 South 11th street one of Escanaba's early pioneers, died at 9:35 o'clock this morning at St. Francis hospital. Her advanced age and a hip fracture which she suffered in a fall September 10, caused her death.

She was born in London, Ontario, Canada, in 1857 and moved to Wisconsin with her parents when she was a baby. She lived in Winneconne and Black Creek following her marriage to James Hillyer.

In 1882 she and her husband, who was employed by the Chicago & North Western Railway, moved to Escanaba. Since Mr. Hillyer's death February 24, 1933, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Snyder have made their home with her.

Mrs. Hillyer was a member of the Escanaba Woman's club and the Chicago & North Western Railway Woman's club and was one of the oldest members of the First Methodist church.

Her only survivor is a niece, Mrs. Charles Allen of Oshkosh, Wis.

The body was taken to the Ailo funeral home. Arrangements for the services are incomplete.

Obituary

ALPHONSE ST. JOHN

Funeral services for Alphonse St. John will be held Thursday morning at nine o'clock from St. Francis Xavier church at Spalding. Rev. Fr. Bernard Karel will officiate at the requiem high mass. Burial will be made in the family lot in the Spalding cemetery.

MRS. MARGARET ROESER

Largely attended funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Roeser were held at a solemn requiem high mass this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph's church. Rev. Theodore P. Roeser of St. Joseph's Seminary, Yonkers, N. Y., a nephew of Mrs. Roeser, was celebrant; Rev. Patrick, O. F. M., decon and Rev. Stephen, O. F. M., sub-deacon.

Pupils of St. Joseph's school attended the funeral mass in a body and school was dismissed for the morning in tribute to Mrs. Roeser's memory.

The choir of the church sang the music of the requiem with Miss Eva Cossette, organist and director. Soloists of the mass were Mrs. Eldridge Baker, Mrs. Frank Hirn, Mrs. Elmer Bonifas and Mrs. Frederick Hirn. At the offertory Frank Hirn sang "Domine Jesu Christe" and at the close of the service Mrs. Ray Olson sang "Pie Jesu."

Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery. An honorary escort of St. Joseph's Altar society was composed of Mmes. M. E. Powers, Math Hemes, M. E. Vanderboom, Elmer Stacey, Charles Lantz and Anna Baker. Active pallbearers were John A. Lemmer, John J. Bartel, John P. Greis, Dr. Frederick Hirn, John H. Meier and R. E. Allingham.

Those attending the funeral included Rev. Roeser of Yonkers; Theodore R. Roeser, New Rochelle, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jossens and Marie Jossens, Detroit; and Rose O'Dill, Norway.

New Farm Shop Teacher At Rapid River School

Rapid River, Sept. 22—Leonard S. England, of Tecumseh, Mich. has been appointed farm shop instructor in the rural agricultural school of the Rapid River school system, it was announced yesterday by R. P. Bowers, superintendent of the Rapid River schools.

Mr. England will begin teaching in about a week, he said. The new instructor has attended St. Olaf college, General Motors Institute, Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, University of Michigan and the University of Minnesota. His majors are physics and mathematics, and he has the bachelor of arts degree.

Mr. England has a background of many years of experience in industry. From 1924 to 1926, he was connected with the Commonwealth Edison company in Chicago, and the next four years were spent with the Illinois Bell Telephone company in commercial field surveys and the business analysis section.

After spending nine years with the Buick Motor company in Flint, he was engaged with the Speery Gyroscope company in Brooklyn and prior to his acceptance of the position at Rapid River school, he was employed with the Hoover Ball and Bearing company in Ann Arbor.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Nicest Compliment I've Had

One of the nicest comments I've received about this column was from an editor in the Middle West I called on. And while I don't like to give myself orchids, I think it illustrates a point.

"Joe," he said, "it so happens I don't agree with everything you say, but I always like to run your column. Because it gets down to earth and talks about the right to disagree. And it only asks for tolerance towards the other person's point of view."

He went on to explain, by way of illustration, that he never had happened to have a taste for ale or beer. But that when I spoke of the right to enjoy a moderate beverage like beer, well, he was right there with me!

And from where I sit, that's the important thing: not whether you share another person's tastes or point of view—but whether you recognize his right to exercise a free choice in a free land.

Selling America

PAUL BAGWELL, national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, told J-C leaders at a conference in Escanaba Saturday evening that we should adopt a positive approach in selling the principle of democracy in this country by devoting less attention to the workings of foreign "isms."

Undoubtedly Mr. Bagwell is correct in his contention that Americanism deserves all the educational promotion that it can get from the mediums of communication—the press, radio, magazines pamphlets and especially in the nation's schools.

We cannot agree with Mr. Bagwell, however, that we can sell America best by ignoring the operations of different systems of government abroad. On the contrary, we believe that American democracy makes its best impressions when it is compared with foreign "isms." Democracy's strength is built upon the rights of individual freedom. The foreign "isms" are predicated upon the presumption that individuals live and work only for the glory of the state.

Democracy works best—nay, democracy works only when the people are fully educated to the problems that they must solve. This process of education for living in a troubled world deands that the American people full realize the conditions of government elsewhere. We must understand the theory of Communism if we hope to cope with Communistic opposition at home and abroad.

We have no fear that we will breed Communists and Fascists in America by the publication of news stories in this country on the Communist doctrine. On the contrary, publication serves to expose the fallacies of the godless doctrine of Communism.

An enlightened America is the strongest defense against infiltration by proponents of foreign "isms."

Price Ajustment

THERE is hope that the needed and inevitable internal readjustment of prices facing the country, may not be far away, and that it may be effected less painfully than it was in 1920-21, says Dr. Frederick C. Mills of the Columbia University faculty.

Not all the changes in price relations in this country since 1929 are going to be reversed in the years ahead, says Dr. Mills. Some may have accompanied by enduring alterations in underlying conditions. In other words, it is likely that prices in some lines are up for good.

But a thousand transitory shortages are bound to be corrected eventually by the free working of the law of supply and demand. In the past, price changes have been painful and severe, but there is a chance this time that a more gradual readjustment of existing economic stresses. Mills bases this thought on the fact that there is still a vast vacuum of unfilled wants abroad, and that the needs of a high living standard are likely to continue at home.

In the recovery of the early 1920's, the increase in man-hour output in manufacturing industries averaged no less than 11 per cent a year between 1920 and 1922. If production can be maintained at a high level, giving labor and enterprise opportunity to raise the efficiency of productive processes, time will be available to work out the answers for some of the chief difficulties we face.

The productive capacity of this country, its mines and mills, power plants and transportation, is incalculable. Dozens of times today's shortages have been turned into tomorrow's surpluses. That's part of the fun of doing business in the United States, and in Canada. The rewards are great to the man or the concern who correctly gauges the future and acts accordingly. But changes are apt to occur with almost lightning suddenness, and most of us have burned our fingers at one time or another in trying to reap bonanzas when the financial weather turned sour over night. Let us hope that another 1929 can be avoided.

Seeds Of Disunity

PRESIDENT TRUMAN and Thomas E. Dewey each made campaign speeches Monday. It is interesting to compare the two speeches and to see how vastly different the two candidates for the presidency are appealing for support from the electorate.

At Denver, Colorado, Mr. Truman told a western audience that the big, bad easterners will get them if they don't watch out. In other words the westerners, according to Truman, had better vote Democratic or be sabotaged by the Republicans. At Detriot recently Mr. Truman used similar tactics in addressing a labor audience. He practically told the labor men that they are doomed to slavery unless they elect a Democratic president. It has been a campaign policy predicated upon a bogeyman of fear, designed naturally to spread disunity among the American people. It is a policy of setting class against class, labor against capital, westerners against easterners. In all probability when the Democratic nominee takes his campaign to the east, he will find another excuse to set the easterners at loggerheads against the patriotic citizens of the west.

In contrast, Mr. Dewey, speaking at Des Moines, Iowa, emphasized that his campaign for the presidency will be built around a program to unite America against the evils of tyranny stemming from abroad. It will not be a campaign that will destroy the united strength so vitally needed by the American people to meet its grave problems for the establishment of a lasting peace.

It is indeed regrettable that the man who now occupies the world's most important job has adopted a policy in this campaign that can only be harmful to the American people. Certainly he cannot hope to retain that position through a campaign program of fear and disunity. Such utter lack of faith in the American people as a whole is hardly befitting the man who is president of the United States.

The Brown Trout Are Running

NEWS that brown trout, "salmo trutta," are striking in several parts of the Upper Peninsula is interesting to many a southern angler. This species, introduced years ago by the Conservation Department at the suggestion of U. P. sportsmen, is a moody and a rugged customer with an adaptability to many different types of water.

This enables the brown trout to hold its own in streams where the rainbow and brook trout cannot exist. When first stocked here, the species was widely known as German brown trout. This is a misnomer, as the fish has been indigenous to Scotland and other countries for generations.

Brown trout can live and thrive in warmer waters than most trout, and even when the water temperature reaches 50 degrees they seem to suffer no ill effects. They were introduced to this country in 1883 from Europe. They stand transplanting well and their distribution is now practically world-wide. They are now found in every state except the southern tier, and they are doing well in Canada.

The brown trout likes larger waters than the brook trout, and waters where there are submerged obstructions and overhanging banks. They frequent the lower ends of pools and like to lie behind or just ahead of rocks that protrude from the current.

The worlds record brown trout, caught on rod and reel, was taken at Loch Awe, Scotland, in 1866. It weighed 39½ pounds. In larger streams and rivers it reaches one to four pounds, and seven to eight pounders are not rare. This species prefers flies and insects to a greater extent than most trout, and it is fond of snails, crawfish, worms and minnows. The brown trout is excellent eating. It takes wet and dry flies, streamer flies, spinner and fly combinations, floating bass bugs and spinning lures.

INCREASING THE SAFETY FACTOR

(Grand Rapids Press)

The Long Island railroad may not be a giant among the nation's railways but in deciding to install micro-wave beam radio to control its trains it is showing itself to be one of the more progressive roads. The radio system, which works simultaneously to that used in relaying television broadcasts, will provide inter-train communication and control switches and signals.

This is not, of course, the first time a railroad has returned to radio for greater safety. The Denver, Rio Grande & Western started using it on its freight trains while the war was in progress and the Pennsylvania has experimentad with radio, as have several other lines. But to our knowledge the Long Island is the first road to adopt it as "standard operating procedure."

One of the more disastrous types of railroad accidents that radio communication between trains should go far to eliminate is that involving two trains which crash simply because one doesn't know the other is there. Railroads which have hesitated about using radio because of the heavy expense involved should be prepared to admit by now that one such wreck is far more costly, even though loss of life and property may not be too serious. For the plain truth is that railroad wrecks are bad for business—the railroads' business. As part of the railroads' present laudable programs to modernize their facilities they shouldn't overlook the example the Long Island is setting for them.

Women who go in for heavy cosmetics to make their given age sound plausible are just making up for lost time.

One type of work that doesn't pay is laboring under the idea that the world owes you a living.

Take My Word For It . . Frank Colby

PET SPEECH PEEVE

Jacqueline Williams, of Little Rock, will receive an autographed copy of my new Handbook for putting her Pet Speech Peeve in this amusing rhyme:

He dials the number, gets his man,
And says, "Uh, Bill? Uh, this is Dan.
"Uh, say, uh, did that stock go high?"
Uh! How I'd love to choke that guy!

It is true that the 'uh" habit is one of the most annoying of our speech faults. And a surprisingly large number of public speakers are guilty. It is heard especially at luncheon clubs:

"My purpose in uh-h speaking to you today uh-h is to uh-h uh-h bring you a report uh-h on a matter of uh-h. . ."

Exaggerated? Not in the least.

The "uh-ing" does not often occur when one reads a speech or delivers a memorized address. It is the impromptu speaker, or the one who speaks from a few scant notes, who is most likely to "uh" his listeners to distraction.

The fault lies in the speaker's inability to think fast on his feet. He resorts to "uh's" to cover up his mental gropings for words, phrases, or ideas as he goes along. The "uh's" are a sort of linguistic camouflage. But they serve to emphasize rather than conceal the speaker's slow mental processes or his woeful unpreparedness for the talk he is trying to make.

If you find that you are inclined to "uh" your way along, even in conversation, resolve this very day to sin no more. "Mend your speech a little, lest you may mar your fortunes."—Shakespeare.

Independents A Power In Senate

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington. — In the effort to whip up interest in what seems to be a most unequal race, a great deal is being written about the struggle for control of the Senate next year. Much of this speculation is mere wordage, since the fact is that neither party has exercised control over the Senate, in the broadest meaning of the word, for many years.

The Senate is a collection of individualists, often rugged individualists. These individualists do not take to party discipline and fairly frequently they thumb their noses at party whips.

In a limited sense, of course, a Republican administration would have an advantage in a Senate majority, however slim the margin. It would mean that the Republican majority could organize and name their own ranking senators to committee chairmanships.

The chairmen exert a powerful influence over the machinery of the Senate. They can block legislation or push it through at high speed if they so desire.

INDEPENDENTS STRONG

This, however, is about the extent of the advantage. Party disciplinarians cannot enforce party regularity in the Senate in behalf of a program. When the word control is used in that sense, as it often is by pressure groups anxious to have a Republican administration go down the line for their own highly specialized objectives, it it simply a fiction.

It is when the margin between the partimes is narrowest that the independents exert their greatest influence. What that means for the Senate that will sit in January is not hard to foresee.

A more or less coherent group of Republican independents have on numerous occasions defied party regularity to vote with the opposition. This group includes Senators Wayne Morse of Oregon, George D. Aiken of Vermont, Charles W. Tobey of New Hampshire and William of North Dakota. All four will return, since their terms do not expire this year. And they are not likely to have their views changed by a Republican victory.

Often voting with this group is another independent Republican, Senator John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky. Reported to be in a close race with his Democratic opponent, Cooper has a good record and he won wide respect on both sides of the aisle for his integrity and courage.

These men have much more in common with certain Democrats who consistently vote their own convictions than they do with standpatters in the Republican party. Incidentally, two troglodytes from the Republican side will be absent when the roll is called in January, Senator Albert W. Hawkes of New Jersey and Senator Ed Moore of Oklahoma, both having decided to retire.

SEN. STEWART DEFEATED

On the Democratic side, the retirement of Pappy O'Daniel of Texas is a decided gain. He will be replaced by Representative Lyndon B. Johnson, who made an excellent record in the House. The defeat in the primary of Senator Tom Stewart of Tennesse was likewise a gain. It is probably that he will be succeeded by Rep. Estes Kefauver, who gave the first trouncing of his life to Boss Crump of Memphis. Even though the Dewey - Warren ticket should carry Tennessee, there is a good chance that enough voters will scratch the ballot to vote for Kefauver on the basis of his liberal record.

Independent Republicans and Democrats working together may be a kind of third force in the new Senate. A great deal will depend on the course the new president steers.

Such a third force, composed of independents and liberals in both parties, would certainly oppose the lobbyists now counting on a Republican sweep to get what they have long wanted. The interests that hire these lobbyists will spend big money in the coming campaign to get a Congress they believe will be compliant.

By pouring hundreds of thousands of dollars into a few key states they may win a technical victory and the Republicans may have a majority of one or two, enabling them to organize the Senate. This could prove to be an empty victory.

When Republican bigwigs go into states other than their own to tell voters in those states what representatives to send to Congress, they will find themselves on delicate ground. And that goes for candidate Thomas E. Dewey. In the west and in the south, particularly, there is a spirit of independence easily affronted by any attempt at dictation or even advice from the countryside. If they believe in a man, they will vote for him regardless of party labels or slurs cast by the opposition.

Good Evening

POSSIBILITIES —The Escanaba community is fortunate in many ways. Some of this good fortune is the result of nature's kindness and much of it represents good planning and good work.

Dunathan

These thoughts are in tune with the special Greater Escanaba days now being observed—not in a spirit of boasting but of boosting. While Escanaba has considerable to boast about, its people are usually too busy to contemplate their blessings.

Many people have recognized this spirit in Escanaba and for that reason the city has progressed, because it attracts those who want to live and work in a "live" community.

Old residents and new occasionally find fault. But for the most part the criticism is constructive and is evidence of the desire for improvement. Escanaba is good, they will admit, but it can be better.

• • •

CAN BE SEEN—Escanaba is well situated geographically for commerce; and its topography and location along the shore of Little Bay de Noc make it a pleasant place in which to live.

George Skrub, Marquette, who is planning engineer for that city while on leave of absence from Harvard University school of planning, remarked about Escanaba's possibilities when he visited here the other day. The city was originally well-planned. The survey made in 1863 by Eli P. Royce and the plat that followed gave Escanaba streets of generous width and a pattern for orderly growth.

• • •

OF THE PEOPLE—Escanaba's principal asset is its people.

Newcomers in the community have told me they have never lived in a town so completely free of "class" distinction. There is no definite "social strata" such as will be found in many communities. Certainly there are families that take pride in their length of residence in Escanaba, and that is understandable. Newcomers are welcomed for what they are and for what they can contribute to the development of the community.

People who have lived here and then moved away often return—because they like Escanaba. This means they find here the kind of people who are friendly and hospitable.

Escanaba is the sort of town that people want to live in, to work in, and to retire in. Many of its residents are those who have returned here to make their home after retirement from jobs that have taken them to many other cities.

"My wife and I always said that when I got through working we wanted to come back to Escanaba to live," is the way one retired traveling man expressed it.

• • •

THINGS TO DO — Often the busy man complains that Escanaba is over-organized. His complaint is usually made after he has been caught up in several of the many community service organizations and has been called upon to work on their committees.

For the individual this may become burdensome —yet it has proved successful in obtaining the active assistance of many men and women in projects of great benefit to Escanaba and its people. Every town has its boosters. Escanaba has more of them.

• • •

WORKING TOGETHER —Because it has many organizations you will find something going on in Escanaba all the time.

The organizations will combine their efforts on community-vide projects, cooperating in promoting events that bring enjoyment to all of the people. In Escanaba's government, in its several commissions, and in organizations representing the entire community you will find people working together. Labor representatives rub elbows with business executives, men of divergent political affiliation sit together in harmony when questions affecting the community are discussed.

Out of all this comes a better Escanaba, a greater Escanaba.

• • •

THERE IS NO PLAN —Many cities have sent representatives to Escanaba to "study" the cause of its progress in an effort to institute similar "programs."

It is my observation that Escanaba has no plan, as such, and no formula for success. There is no blueprint that can be copied, no program that can be adopted.

But it does have approximately 16,000 people who believe that Escanaba has a future.

The only plan that Escanaba has is this faith in the future and people who are willing to work for the development of the community. There is no patent on a formula like that.

This age has been passing through a mood of pessimism because man has felt lonely and friendliness in a harsh universe. Philosophy and religious, failing to provide leadership while science provides the facts, have left him confused and uncertain. —Viscount Samuel, president, British Royal Institute of Philosophy.

Roving Reporter

By Hal Boyle

New York (AP)—One of the hardest things in life for any man to master is the fine art of quitting.

This 24-karat truth is pointed up anew by the decision of Joseph Louis, the eminent pugilist, to resume his former calling.

Hal Boyle

At the ripe old age of 34, having amassed enough gelt to cushion his declining years, Joe announced he was through with his precision fistic bombing. He decided to trade in his gloves on a typewriter and launch a new career as a columnist-commentator for a Harlem newspaper.

Trying a new job was no mental hurdle to Joe. He was a newsboy, shined shoes, ran errands, delivered ice and worked in an automobile factory before he found how easy he could quintuple his income merely by doubling his fists.

But now Joe has changed his mind again—as have many champions who wanted to quit at the top—and he's going to try one more fight next June, when he'll be 35.

"Just one more, Joe."

It's hard to resist that plea. Sometimes the plea comes from within a champion's own heart. More often it comes from his retainers and the men around him who want to keep him in a position to finish feathering their own nests.

It's true of politicians, businessmen and warriors as well as athletes. There's always a group that wants them to stay in there pitching after their own minds tell them it's time to step down.

"Just once more," they're told. "We need you. We can't win this time without you. Just once more."

It is hard to resist such flattering pressure, the "you're-the-only-one-who-can-do-it" flattery. And so the aching muscle or the weary mind goes back "just once more" into the fray. And too often what happens is what happened to Jim Jeffries when he emerged from retirement for a flabby rendezvous with Jack Johnson in 1910, to Jack Dempsey when he took on Gene Tunney a second time, and to Napoleon when he met a fellow called "the Iron Duke" at a wide place in the road called Waterloo.

But quitting at the right time—at the peak—is even more difficult for the common man than it is for the champion in any field.

To the ordinary man an enforced retirement isn't just a blow to his ego—it's usually a catastrophe caused by illness or accident. And planned retirement is to him a goal near the end of his life's run—a short dreamy interlude before death grabs him.

It's hard to quit. Perhaps the most gracious "quitter" of our day is Winston Churchill. He quits every time the voters toss him out, and goes off and writes some best-selling memoirs and paints some pictures.

Then, refreshed in spirits, Churchill rides back again into high public office on the changing tide, smiling and eloquent as ever and holding no resentment against the voters.

This unsinkable cork in the flood of modern history is the real political heavyweight of our times. He quits only to try again—and he's made more comebacks than yo-yo.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington. — When President Truman got out to Iowa on his present campaign trip, he put in a long distance phone call to Gov. Jim Cox, Democratic candidate for president against Harding in 1920 and grand old man of the Democratic party. Though the conversation was about other things, Governor Cox made this suggestion:

"I can tell you how to carry Iowa, Mr. President."

"How?" asked the president.

"Give 'em rain today."

Mr. Truman chuckled.

"The Republicans will probably promise them rain," continued Cox, and then take credit for it when the equinox sets in."

U. S. HESITATES

Future historians may chalk up a certain moment of American indecision last July alongside the indecision of the French on March 6, 1936, when Hitler invaded the Rhineland.

At that time, the French army could have stopped Hitler cold. Later it became known that Hitler had even given his military chiefs orders to retreat if the French army moved. But the French hesitated, debated, did nothing.

Last July when the Russians first clamped down the Berlin blockade, the U. S. likewise hesitated. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, commander of America's political Corregidor, proposed sending an armored train loaded with supplies through the blockade.

He was convinced the Russians would not fight. All intelligence reports indicated that the Kremlin had given firm orders to the Red army not to shoot. Moscow could not, Clay was convinced, afford a war.

His proposal was OK'd by the joint chiefs of staff and the National Security Council, but the state department and later Truman, himself, said no. Whether they were right or wrong is for history to decide, but the Berliners are wagering that Clay's strategy would have called Russia's bluff.

Now, however, Russia has brought more divisions of the Red army to Germany, has its prestige at stake with the entire world, and, according to many experts, would fight.

DEWEY'S SECRETARY FOR AIR?

The big airlines and aircraft manufacturers are promoting Congressman Carl Hinshaw of California to be secretary of air in case Dewey is elected.

It was Hinshaw who got Congress to pass heavy subsidy increases for the "big five" airlines. One of the five even sent a Mainliner all the way from New York to Washington to take a party of Hinshaw's relatives and friends on a sightseeing trip over the capital.

G. I. CAME FIRST

Brig. Gen. "Buck" Lanham, the G. I.'s friend, was locked in conference with a colonel when his secretary broke in:

"Sergeant Johnny Davies is waiting to see you, sir."

"Send him in," replied the general.

The sergeant entered meekly.

"Is this personal?" asked Lenham, "or can the colonel stay?"

TRUMAN URGES HEALTHY U. S. A.

There is nothing likely to lose more votes among doctors than compulsory health insurance. Yet the other day, President Truman, conferring with representatives of the American Hospital association, went right down the line for compulsory health insurance and seemed to have some pretty good arguments to back him up.

Both sides got a little hot under the collar about it.

Hospital Association President Graham Davis started the argument by warning Truman that compulsory insurance would "inhibit the activities of voluntary hospitals." Half of the $6,000,000,000 spent annually on American hospitals, Davis warned, is contributed by private philanthropists.

Rev. George Lewis Smith, president of the Catholic Hospital association, backed Davis up on this, adding that one of every four patients goes to a Catholic hospital.

Mr. Truman listened patiently, then lit into his callers.

One-third of the men who reported for the wartime draft were turned down for physical and mental reasons, the president told the private hospital representatives.

"It is outrageous that that sort of condition should exist," Truman exclaimed.

Right in the nation's capital, the president continued, there is such a shortage of hospitals and beds that members of his own White House staff have trouble getting medical attention.

Davis retorted that the United States is the healthiest nation in the world. Then, playing his trump card, he flashed a letter which he had received from the president himself.

"Nothing in the plans I have in mind or in the recommendations I have made to the Congress looking toward a national health program," Truman had written Davis, "would interfere in any way with the 3,000 or more of our voluntary hospitals which supply so large a part of the hospital care for our people."

"Compulsory health insurance," protested Davis, after reading the letter, "would interfere with the free operation of voluntary hospitals and tend to bring them under government control."

"The Federal Reserve system hasn't taken over control of the banks," snapped Truman.

Compulsory health insurance, he added, would help rather than hinder their work.

By this time, the allotted 15 minutes calling time was up. And with both sides getting hot under the collar, the hospital authorities departed.

Note—Most doctors who have tried compulsory health insurance praise it highly, claim it gives them a steadier income and their patients better health. People with health insurance, they say, come in to see the doctor regularly because it's already paid for, don't put it off until too late.

Rock River P.T.A. Meets In Chatham

Chatham, Mich. — The first meeting of the Rock River P.T.A. held Thursday evening at the school was very well attended Mrs. George Lelvis, retiring president called the meeting to order. Following the opening prayer, the teachers new in the system this year were introduced Supt. William Acker and Mrs. Acker, Miss Belle Greene, home making; Miss Dorothy Nocerina, biology and English; Miss Mabel Largura, commercial; Mrs. Mary Alleman, social studies. Members of the faculty in the system previously were also presented to the assembly. Mrs. Edwin Pelkie, Mrs. Rose Lemin, Mrs. Hilda Trelford, Mrs. George Kallio, Mrs. Thora Brown, Walfred Michelson, Leslie Latvala.

The minutes of the 76th regular meeting of May 1948 were read by the secretary, Mrs. Leo Pokela. Mrs. Waino Norberg gave the treasurer's report that a balance of $329.26 is in the treasury from last year plus a $60.00 check presented to the P.T.A. by Mr. Latvala, proceeds from a benefit ball game during the vacation period.

The letter of Mrs. Ramah Hostettler of Deerton resigning the presidency to which she was elected in May, was read by Mrs. Lelcis. Mrs. Arthur Wolcott was then elected to replace Mrs. Hostettler. Mrs. Wolcott as president were then formally installed as officers, Mrs. Christofferson having been absent from the May meeting when newly elected officers were installed for the coming year.

The question was brought up by Mrs. Wolcott as to whether or not it would be possible to have the school busses transport parents to the P. T. A. for about two meetings during the winter and as to whether or not bus drivers would be willing to donate their services for such two meetings. The question was left for investigation, findings to be discussed at the October meeting. The rate per child for hot lunch was also discussed. As the P. T. A. does not sponsor the hot lunch project this year the matter was referred to the Board of Education to re reported on at the next meeting.

Mrs. Wolcott announced that a number of interesting films are available to PTA's for a very nominal sum and made a request that members pay their dues of 25c per person at this meeting if possible. The program committee will make an effort to secure a good movie for the October meeting.

Following the business meeting a program of games was introduced by Mrs. Wolcott. Vern Richmond directed the games. One of the features of the evening was a suit case race in which two teams, one composed of Harold Wallis, Forest Lade, Charles Hoy, Chatham, and Arthur Wolcott; Chatham and the other made up of Elmer Salminen, Chatham, George Leppamaki, Chatham and Frank Stuer, Jr., Chatham, competed in a contest of fast dressing, incidently demonstrating to the ladies' how to get in and out of their wearing apparel with dispatch. The last part of the evening was spent in singing favorite songs with Mrs. Harold Wallis accompanying on the piano.

Following the program lunch was served by Mrs. Seibo Brown, chairman; Mrs. Carl Cristofferson, Mrs. George Lelvis, Mrs. Waino Norberg, Mrs. Eli Multila Mrs. Frank Stuer, Jr., Mrs. Peter Juntunen, and Mrs. Walfred Michelson volunteered to assist the lunch committee as some members were absent.

The program committee are making plans for a number of interesting activities and the finance committee also plan to sponsor a number of activities during the year. Some of these will be a series of game parties, an old time dancing party, and a Christmas party. Plans have also been discussed for having a rummage sale, fancy goods and baked goods sale. The response at this first meeting was gratifying. It is hoped that attendence throughout the year will be equally good. Officers and committees will do their utmost to make this a very enjoyable as well as profitable year to all parents and members.

The lunch committee for the meeting of October 21 will be:: Mrs. Gunnar Benson, chairman; Mrs. Onen Posio, Mrs. Carl Zeno, Mrs. Elmer Salminen, Mrs. Oscar Nelson, Mrs. Gust Lintula and Mrs. Oscar Sandstrom. These committee members are asked to kindly bring their own dish towels.

Mrs. Arthur Wolcott wishes to express appreciation of the cooperation she so generously received from all those approached to assist with the last meeting.

BAY FOUNDRY—Pouring of molten iron into molds is a familiar sight at the Bay Foundry company's plant, located in the old extract building at Wells. The foundry, one of Escanaba's new industries, was started a little more than a year ago. It employs about thirty-five men. Castings are made for the automotive, farm equipment and other manufacturing industries.

Rita L. Gagnon Bride, Wedding At Nahma Church

Gladioli and dahlias banked the altar of St. Andrew's Catholic church at Nahma for the double ring ceremony Saturday, September 18, at which Rita Lillian Gagnon, of Green Bay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Gagnon, sr., of St. Jacques became the bride of John Ray Byrne, of Green Bay, son of Lawrence Byrne.

Rev. Fr. Kichak of Engadine read the service at a 10 o'clock nuptial high mass. Members of the choir sang "O Lord I Am Not Worthy" and "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother," as the bride placed her bouquet on the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore white satin, the gown made with a shirred bodice, sweetheart neckline, long pointed sleeves and a full skirt with a court train. Her veil of fingertip length was gathered to a beaded crown. She wore a string of pearls, the bridegroom's gift, as her only jewelry, and she carried white gladioli and pink roses, with shower ribbons knotted with pink rosebuds.

Bridal Aides

Miss Betty McDermid, maid of honor, wore white faille with matching flowers in her hair and Miss Nancy Byrne, a niece of the bridegroom, who was bridesmaid, wore fuchsia faille with a similar flower headdress. Both bridal aides carried bouquets of cream gladioli with pink edging and light pink roses.

The bride's mother was dressed in black crepe and her corsage was of red roses.

Edward Anderson was best man for Mr. Byrne and Robert Truska, a cousin of the bride, was grooms man.

A wedding breakfast and a dinner for 100 guests were served at the home of the bride's parents. The tiered wedding cake centered the decorations of pink, white and blue.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Chicago and Detroit after which they will live in Green Bay at 611 Sixteenth street. For traveling the bride wore a gray suit with black accessories. The bride is a graduate of Nahma high school and attended Cloverland Commercial college in Escanaba. Mr. Byrne, a graduate of Birnamwood high school, is a brakeman for the Chicago & North Western Railway.

Wedding Guests

Lillian Greis Named Head Of Post Auxiliary

Mrs. Lillian Greis was elected president of Cloverland Unit 82, American Legion Auxiliary at its annual business meeting last night at the Legion club rooms.

Associate officers for the year are:

Mrs. Irene Thompson — first vice president.

Mrs. Rosia Barron—second vice president.

Mrs. Capitola Bloom—secretary.

Mrs. Mary Alice Butler—treasurer.

Mrs. Estelle Flanders—chaplain.

Mrs. Nettie Seidl—historian.

Mrs. Olive Beauchamp — sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. Evelyn Schmeltzer, Mrs. Josephine Barron and Mrs. Leona Fisher—executive board.

Miss Belle Harvey, Mrs. Dorothy Boyle and Mrs. Anna Molloy —auditing committee.

The officers were installed by Mrs. Cordelia Breault, a past president of the unit.

In accepting the office Mrs. Greis asked for cooperation and stressed the need for early fulfillment of the membership quota, particularly in view of the fact that Cloverland Post and Unit will entertain at the Upper Peninsula district convention this coming year.

Convention Reports

At the business meeting last night Mrs. Greis reported on the U. P. convention at Ishpeming and the state convention at Grand Rapids. Plans were discussed for the bake sale and rummage sale which will be held at the club rooms October 9 with Mrs. Kate Donovan, chairman, and also for the annual membership dinner meeting October 12 for which the new officers form the committee.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Schmeltzer, chairman of the evening and her committee. Guest awards were presented Mrs. Greis, Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Seidl.

Victoria Butryn Is the Bride of Rodger Stebbins

Miss Victoria M. Butryn of Chicago, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butryn, Bark River, Route 2, and Roger Stebbins, son of the Everette Stebbins' of LaBranche, exchanged vows in a ceremony performed Saturday morning, Sept. 18, at 10 o'clock in the rectory of Sacred Heart church in Schaffer. Rev. Father Wilfred Pelletier read the service.

The bride's sister, Helen, of Chicago, was maid of honor, Blanche Guindon, also of Chicago, bridesmaid, and Janice Butryn, a niece of the bride, junior bridesmaid. Mr. Stebbins' best man was Arthur Welch of LaBranche and Joseph Bartosz was groomsman.

The bride wore white slipper satin, styled with a v-shaped yoke of illusion, fitted bodice, long tapering sleeves and a full skirt with a court train. Sequins outlined the yoke of the gown and also formed the coronet which held her fingertip veil of bridal illusion in place. Her jewelry was a three-strand pearl necklace, the bridegroom's gift, and she carried an all-white bridal bouquet of roses, gladioli and baby mums, centered with a corsage of roses.

Pastel Satin Gowns

The maid of honor wore aqua, the bridesmaid yellow, and the junior bridesmaid pink, their gowns of satin made with snug bodices, short sleeves and hooped skirts. They had matching halos of ruffled satin with clusters of flowers. The maid of honor carried pink gladioli and Johanna Hill roses and the bridesmaid, bronze gladioli and similar roses. The junior bridesmaid carried a miniature bouquet of pink gladioli and roses.

Mrs. Butryn wore navy blue crepe for her daughter's wedding and the bridegroom's mother, deep plum crepe. Both had red rose corsages.

A wedding dinner for 100 guests was served at the Joseph Butryn home. Flowers in the colors of the bridal party formed the decorations and the bridal table was centered by a tiered wedding cake. In the evening a wedding dance was held at the LaBranche hall, which was decorated with autumn leaves, white wedding bells and pink, blue and white streamers.

Home In LaBranche

The couple left for a honeymoon at the Wisconsin Dells and in Chicago, the bride's going-away outfit an aqua blue suit of wool gabardine with brown accessories. They will live in LaBranche. The bride, an Escanaba high school graduate, has been employed as a beauty operator in Chicago. Mr. Stebbins, who attended Powers high school, is associated with his father in the lumber business.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. Anton Fasbinder, jr., Francis Merwin and daughter, Shirley Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Louis LaMaurie and son, Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Peterson and daughter, Christine, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kleiman, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Winchester, Raymond Pepin, Escanaba; Mr. and Mrs. DeWayne Stebbins and children, Kay, Lynn and Wayne, LaBranche; Mr. and Mrs. Sid Yelland and family, Iron Mountain; Mr. and Mrs. Clint Paulson, Escanaba; Mrs. Leon Lentz and son, Boston; Mrs. Dwight Drake, Tecumseh; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cooper, Iron Mountain; Mrs. Guy Donnegan and daughter, Cecile, Ray Stebbins and Mrs. Joseph Dault, Mr. and Mrs. Romeo Dault and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dault, L'Anse.

Parish Reception Marks Birthday Of Fr. Bourgeois

Rev. Fr. Lester Bourgeois, pastor of St. Bruno's church at Nadeau, and formerly assistant of St. Ann's church of Escanaba was honored at a reception arranged by his parish in observance of his birthday anniversary Sunday evening at St. Bruno's church hall. Over 200 members and friends of the church attended.

An entertaining program was given including a talk by Fred Vescolani, superintendent of the Carney schools, readings, musical numbers and a play. F. Carl Jenkins was master of ceremonies and Mrs. Anton Poupore, chairman of the reception committee.

The program was followed by cards and a lunch. Centering the table was a large birthday cake, decorated with lighted candles. There also were birthday cakes for Oliver Perras, of Nadeau, who celebrated his 101th birthday Sunday, and Mrs. Raymond Giguere and Mrs. Paul Nagy, who also observed their anniversary on that day.

Among guests were Father Bourgeois' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Bourgeois of Menominee, and a number of members of the clergy of the diocese.

Mrs. Severin Buckland and children, Arlene and Russell, 1421 North 22nd street, left yesterday for Seattle, Wash., to visit a month with relatives.

Agnes Anderson has returned to Milwaukee after visiting with her mother, Mrs. Hilda Johnson, 916 Sheridan road.

Forget-Me-Not Sale Endorsed By Mayor LeMire

Pointing out that the war is not over for America's war-time disabled veterans, Mayor Robert LeMire urged local citizens to purchase a forget-me-not—blue flower of remembrance—that will be placed on sale on the city's streets on DAV forget-me-not days, Sept. 24 and 25. Proceeds of the day will be used by the DAV for its work with disabled veterans and their dependents.

In his proclamation, Mayor Robert LeMire said: "Many disabled veterans, their families and their dependents, are in vital need of rehabilitation assistance."

The Disabled American Veterans, chartered by Congress as the official voice of the nation's war-time disabled, is rendering a vital service to the disabled veterans of this community. The D. A. V. has pledged itself to protect existing benefits and help obtain additional needed benefits for America's disabled defenders.

The Mayor commended the D. A. V. for its service to the disabled and in his proclamation requested "all citizens, interested groups and societies to participate in the day."

Plans for the forget-me-not day are being formulated by the Escanaba Chapter No. 24 under the direction of Delore LeBlanc.

Mayor LeMire's complete proclamation is as follows:

Proclamation

WHEREAS, The war is not over for our disabled veterans who have given a part of body and well-being in the wartime service of our nation; and

WHEREAS, Many disabled veterans, their families and their dependents are in vital need of rehabilitation assistance; and

WHEREAS, The Disabled American Veterans, chartered by Congress as the official voice of the nation's war-time disabled, is rendering a vital service to the disabled veterans of this community and area; and

WHEREAS, the D. A. V. has pledged itself to protect existing benefits and help obtain additional needed benefits for America's disabled defenders; and

WHEREAS, the D. A. V. has chosen Friday and Saturday, September 24th and 25th as its annual Forget-me-not Day in this community, the funds derived from said day to be used in behalf of the disabled veteran and his dependents in this community;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Robert LeMire, Mayor of the city of Escanaba, do hereby proclaim the 24th and 25th day of September as DISABLED AMERICAN VETERANS FORGET-ME-NOT DAY and request all citizens, interested groups and societies to participate in the day.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the city to be affixed, this 21st day of September, 1948.

Robert E. LeMire
Mayor

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Nelson, 1208 South 16th street, are the parents of a son, James Robert, born Sept. 15, at St. Francis hospital. The Nelsons have one other child, a daughter, Mary Ellen.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Allan Earle, Ford River road, are the parents of a son, Robert Allan Earle, born Saturday, Sept. 18 at St. Francis hospital. The baby is the first child in the family.

MAKING UNDERGARMENTS—Here is an over-all picture of the interior of the Venus Sewing company plant in Escanaba. A crew of over 130 women turn out high grade girdles, brassieres and corselets. The factory has been operating in Escanaba for the past five years, and is one of three such plants operated by the Roston brothers of Chicago.

Venus Sewing Factory Offers Employment To Many Escanaba Women

One of the largest employers of women in Escanaba is the Venus Sewing company.

At present about 100 women are employed in the plant to sew brassiers, girdles and corselets for marketing from Chicago. Within the next few weeks the plant will be up to peak employment with 140 women at work on the 200 machines.

Ready-cut cloth is shipped here by truck from Chicago for sewing, after which the finished garments are shipped back to Chicago where they are pressed, packaged and shipped for retail selling.

The Venus Sewnig company began operations in the city-owned building at 1608 Third avenue north in April two years ago. At peak employment they have released a payroll of upwards of $15,000. A new contract was recently negotiated with the International Ladies Garment Workers union and the total monthly payroll now exceeds all other records of the plant.

Owned By Roston Family

Gilbert Roston of Chicago is president of the Venus Sewing company in Escanaba and Walter Roston is secretary. The Roston family, the mother and her three sons, own three garment factories such as the one in Escanaba. The other two are in Garrett, Ind., and Chicago.

On numerous visits by officials of the company, they have stressed that their reason for coming to Escanaba was because here a steady supply of dependable labor was available.

Mrs. Ella Almquist is supervisor of the plant, which normally employs 140 women for a 40 hour week. Most wages are based on piece work. All employees are trained in the plant here. Each year a number of seniors from Escanaba senior high school are hired in the plant through the school co-operative system. Last year, Mrs. Almquist and her staff instructed six students.

Working at the Venus Sewing plant here is not considered 'hard' by employes, but is exacting.

Good Labor Relations

Mrs. Almquist and her superiors have hecogizned this and have instituted a very fine system of employer - employe relationship. No employe, for example, has a birthday, without receiving a small party and a gift from other workers. When they are ill both employe and employers get together and send gifts or cards.

Proir to coming to Escanaba, Mrs. Almquist, practically a legend in the city for her amazing ability to manage a factory nd to understand employes, worked in the Garret, Ind., factory as supervisor and in Chicago. She began work with the Venus company over 20 years ago, as a piece-worker.

Miss Elaine Rae is assistant to the plant supervisor. Miss Vivian Pascal instructs in the two-needle department; Miss Leona Borden in the seaming department; Miss Leone Markovich in the new department devoted to making brassieres in nude, white, black and blue; and Miss Nellie Smith instructs in the inspecting department. Mrs. Jean Lundquist is in charge of the department handling all stock and machine assignments.

Walter Zimmerman is machinist at the plant here and Joseph Almquist is in charge of shipping and receiving. Alice Runkel is secretary to the supervisor and is assisted by Miss Patsy Kositzky.

No Work Hazzard

The plant manufactures as much as 700 dozen of garments weekly. There is virtually no occupational hazard connected with the work and women of all working ages, both experienced and inexperienced are hired at the plant. The average training period for workers is four months.

During the past summer, the Venus Sewing plant here operated more slowly because of a drop in the market for these goods. According to experts this followed on the heels of the drop in grain prices and reflected greater apprehension on the part of American business, which exhausted its inventories at that time, rather than stock ahead.

Officials of the sewing company have frequently expressed great confidence in their Escanaba plant, and plan to operate here on as large a scale as possible, with a minimum of 140 workers.

Large Quantities Of Gloves Manufactured, Distributed By Escanaba Glove Company

More than fifty Escanaba women live daily with memories of roller skating fun while manufacturing gloves for the Escanaba Glove company.

The Escanaba Glove company was established in the Coliseum building which had provided roller skating for more than two generations of Escanabans in June, 1947.

The plant now has about fifty machines in operation and expects to increase production steadily, in tide with national business conditions. Latest reports show an output of over 3,000 dozens of fabric gloves weekly.

The Escanaba Glove company is an affiliate of the Eisendrath Glove company of Chicago, of which Robert M. Eisendrath is president. The same company has plants operating in Menominee and Marinette.

Fabric for the gloves arrives here ready-cut from Marinette. The Escanaba factory does all sewing and trimming and packages the gloves for direct shipment to retailers. All sizes and styles of gloves are made in all colors.

The packaging department was installed in the Escanaba plant this past summer. Operation of this entails added personel for inspecting and packaging as well as packing and shipping.

The present monthly payroll at the Escanaba Glove factory averages better than $5,000.

John Wright of Marinette is manager of the Escanaba Glove company factory and Miss Ida Peterson of this city is plant supervisor.

Officials of the company have stated that no labor shortage is anticipated and feel certain that the present Escanaba over-all labor supply will permit expansion of the Escanaba plant in the future.

Employes recently were feted at an all-employe banquet. During the summer the glove-makers attracted much attention with their hard-hitting girls' softball team.

The Colliseum provides a spacious factory interior with much space available for moving materials about. The factory is well-lighted and cool, and is located at 128 South Fourth street, on the corner of First avenue south.

Thirty-four new machines were installed in the plant this past summer. Personnel was increased by 12.

TELLS HISTORY OF PAPER MILL

Traffic Manager Gives Rotary Fine Talk

How the Escanaba Paper comany rose from humble beginnings to a multi-million dollar concern was related in an interesting manner Monday noon before the Gladstone Rotary club by Harold Vanderberghe, Escanaba, traffic manager for the paper company.

The beginning came in 1892 when the late John K. Stack, Escanaba, one of the county's financial leaders of the day envisioned an electric street railway for that city and had constructed a steam driven generator plant at the present location of the distributing plant on Stephenson avenue in Escanaba.

Fred J. Moran, Escanaba, who operated a marine transportation service between Gladstone and Escanaba collaborated with Mr. Stack and the street railway was put into operation. The service was later extended to Gladstone augmenting transportation which until then had been by boat, horse or afoot.

Demands for electric energy were expanding and the steam plant was proving inadequate so a Mr. Utley, an electric engineer was brought to Delta county and he looked over the Escanaba River with the idea of developing for hydro electric plants. The No. 1 dam and power house was built at Flat Rock a short distance north of where Highways US 2-41 now cross the Escanaba River.

Demands for current kept increasing and another dam and hydro plant was constructed just above Groos and the present site of the paper company. The No. 3 dam was constructed at Chandler Falls or a short distance south of West Gladstone.

Then with a current surplus it was decided to build a pulp mill and a three-grinder plant was constructed at the site of the present paper company. The pulp was sold mainly to Wisconsin mills. Canadian pulp sent into this country in large quantities duty free forced the company to start making paper to utilize the pulp and it was newsprint mainly at first.

Later they expanded and made hanging stock or wall-paper. With the Mead company in the picture further expansion and improvement has been made until today one of the machines produces about 130 tons daily of a high-grade magazine stock used in Life and Time magazines while another machine produces about 240 tons of stock daily.

The speaker said it takes about five carloads of raw material for every carload of the finished product and that as much pulp as possible was purchased from a distance and the company practiced reforestation in order to be able to continue operations for the next century.

Between 550 and 600 families are dependent on the paper company for their livelihood and several hundred others are indirectly dependent, the speaker said.

Shirley Bovin Is Bride Saturday Of Harry Lundin, Jr.

Miss Shirley Gail Bovin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ragner Kallerson, 572 North 9th., street, and Harry Charles Lundin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lundin, Sr., 1228 Wisconsin avenue, spoke their nuptial vows at a 10:30 o'clock ceremony on Saturday morning September 18, in All Saints Rectory. Rev. Fr. Matt LaViolette read the marriage service.

Attendants were Mrs. Peter DeMenter, sister of the bride as matron of honor and the bridal aides were Mrs. Lawrence Grenier and Miss Lillian Johnson. The groom had as his best man, his brother John Lundin of Chicago, and the groomsmen were Peter DeMenter and Lawrence Grenier.

The bride was attired in a white satin gown, fashioned with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and long tight sleeves which came to points at the wrist. Lace insertion in the front and back extended from the shoulder to the hemline and the full skirt formed a train which was edged in lace. Her long net veil trimmed with lace was attached to a headdress of flowers and net. She caried a colonial bouquet of white asters and red roses.

The matron of honor wore a blue taffeta floor length gown with a net overskirt, sweetheart neckline and short cap sleeves. She wore a matching headdress with a shoulder length veil and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and white asters, snapdragons and pink roses. The bridesmaids gowns, one of pink and the other lime green, were styled like that of the matron of honor, and they wore matching headdresses with shoulder length veils and carried colonial bouquets of white and orchid asters, pink roses and yellow gladiolus.

The bride's mother was attired in a dark street length dress with black accessories and the groom's mother wore a medium blue dress with black accessories. The bride's only grandmother, Mrs. John Bovin, chose a grey gown with contrasting accessories of black. Each had a shoulder corsage of deep pink roses, yellow gladioli which was centered with a single purple gladiola.

A wedding dinner, with covers laid for thirty six guests, was served at the bride's parental home. Gardens flowers and mixed bouquets of gladioli and a pink and white color scheme was used in the home decorations. The three tiered wedding cake, topped by the traditional miniature bride and groom centered the table. The reception was held from three to six o'clock at the home of the bridegroom's parents with over one hundred guests attending.

The couple left on a wedding trip to an unannounced destination. For her going away costume, the bride wore a grey suit with matching hat and gloves. On their return they will live at 572 North 9th street.

Both are graduates of Gladstone High school class of 1941 and the bride is employed at the local A & P store and the groom is with the Soo Line Railroad.

Out-of-town guests were; namely, Mr. and Mrs. John Lundin, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Etten and son, Danny, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Theme! and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weber, Mr. and Mrs. William Weber and son, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boyle, Mr. and Mrs. James Ellisor and son and Mr. and Mrs. William Ramspeck, Escanaba; Mr. and Mrs. Eli Demeuse, Wells; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ames, Rapid River; Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Lundberg, Oscar Lundin, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lundin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heric, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Louis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Weeks and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heric, Ensign.

RUARK BORED BY DIET CRAZE

Likes Good Old Days, Fat But Happy

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

New York, Sept. 21—I cry a pox on the current diet craze, which has unsettled the gastronomic life of the nation, and turned into a bigger bore for the non-participant than a conversation with a stamp-collector.

I have met few people lately who are not verging on, in the midst of, or just completing a diet. They all wear an air of spurious nobility, rather like the smugness of people who take cold showers in winter. They attempt to convey a superiority of the soul, which has enabled them to joust single-handed with the temptations of the table. They have a public contempt for the potato that is like the sour intolerance of the reformed drunk for people who still fancy a martini.

The dieter is not content to strut and preen himself before the non-dieter, counting the other's chins and making snide remarks about belt measurements. But he seems to think that his ordeal with a high-protein prescription or some such nonsense is a fascinating experience — one that should be shared with every passerby. He will back you into a corner, seize you by the lapel, and give you the complete play-by-play, from initial lettuce leaf to the box-score on lost pounds.

Dieter Tops All

In my time I have listened to windy exposition from parents concerning the genius of their spawn. I have examined a few thousand pictures of cross-eyed kids and bucktoothed brides, proudly whipped from wallet and waved under the nose. I have been bored by bird-fanciers, dog-owners, wishful novelists, world reformers, sports experts and pun-makers. But the chronic dieter tops them all. He is tops because he not only wants to tell you all about it; he wants to force you to take it, and he gets mad if you refuse.

A terrible thing happens when one member of a household is dieting to chop the heft and the other is not. Once firmly in the claws of a calory-killing prescription, the abstemious member completel loses interest in the base cravings of the non-starver. That is going on in my house at the moment, ever since mama took a horrified look at her hips and succumbed to the blandishments of a dieting friend.

There was a time when we had hot corn-on-the-cob, dripping butter; hot biscuits, also soaked in same; asparagus with hollandaise; avocados and plenty of potatoes dwelt in my house. We were fat but happy. A man didn't get sneered at if he rassled up another batch of martinis to tickle his taste buds. He didn't have to hide behind the barn to chomp a roastin-ear. There was no guilt complex tied to food.

No Comfort In Food

But now things are becoming very taut. Mama is doing the dieting, but I am losing the weight. She has been pointedly scornfully noble about fixing nutritious snacks, while she lives on skim milk and hay, but I don't get any comfort out of eating any more. When I am rubbing a pork chop daubed with mashed potatoes around my features, she sits and stares at me as if she hates me. For awhile she resembled a hungry child peering into a bakery, but now there is a wolfishness about her expression that reminds you of a Communist staring into a banker's club.

There was also a time when mama did not shrink and flee if someone suggested a little noggin of something to ward off germs, but since they told her how many calories lurk in a sup of Scotch she is on the brink of attacking my modest bar with a hatchet. And she sniffs scornfully when her peerless knight softens the rigors of modern living with a little snort.

It is my guess mama is a secret consumer of chocolate creams, and will tumble off this diet wagon shortly. I am helping that along with a war of nerves, involving anecdotes about people who drop dead from diets. But if her high resolve doesn't crumble, I suppose, in the interests of peace, I'll have to go on the damn' diet with her. Although I don't recall that the preacher said anything about shared starvation when he was reciting the clauses in the contract.

SUDDENLY IT'S FALL! — Well, it was fun while it lasted, but all things come to an end, including the Good Old Summertime. The G.O.S. will officially bow out at 10:22 p. m., EST, Sept. 22, making way for the Autumnal Equinox — Fall, to you.

Air Force Chiefs Shifted; Gen Lemay Gets Top Command

Washington, D. C., (AP)— The Air Force is juggling some of its top commanders, with Gen. George C.Kenney turning his stategic air command over to Gen Curtis E. Le May in the most important shift.

Le May, 41, now heads the Air Force in Europe, Kenney, 59-year-old veteran of air fighting in both World Wars, will go to Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala., to take over the air university, top school for future combat leaders.

Lt. Gen. John K. Cannon, now head of the air training command, will return to Europe in the job he left more than two years ago, succeeding Le May as chief of United States Air Forces there.

No assignment was announced for Maj. Gen. Robert W. Harper, now commanding the air university, and no new chief of the air training command was named.

The transfer, announced Monday, will take several weeks to complete, the Air Force said.

COURT DOCKET VERY LIGHT

No Criminal Cases Listed For Coming Term

For the first time in many years Schoolcraft county circuit court scheduled to open Monday, will convene without a single criminal case on its docket.

The court calendar, just issued, reveals this unusual fact. The number of civil cases is also small, there being but two cases which may call for the services of a jury. These are Elmer C. Ojala vs. Walter Burns and Everett Pasino vs. Dorothea Garber.

The Ojala-Burns suit, which has been continued through several terms of court, is a damage suit arising out of a motor accident. The Pasino-Garber case involves a claim by Pasino for remodeling work done to the Garbet Dress shop.

Also listed in chancery is an injunction suit brought by Betsy O. Johnson et al. against Gottfried S. Johnson; Lew W. Cleminson vs. Delta Lumber Co., et al.; a bill to quite title; LeRoy J. Belcik and Violet C. Belcik vs. Joseph Brown a bill to quite title.

Several other matters were due for trial at the present term, but were settled before the calendar was printed.

Court will convene Monday afternoon at two o'clock with Judge Herbert W. Runnells presiding.

Two Pay Fines For Violation Of State Game Laws

John Sommerville, who resides in Hiawatha township near the Alger county line, pleaded guilty Tuesday morning in local justice court before Judge W. G. Stephens, to a charge of illegal killing of deer and was fined $50 and $8.50 costs.

Sommerville was arrested the day before by Conservation Officer Leslie Walstrand, who came upon the man with a freshly killed doe in his possession. When brought into court the man readily admitted his guilt.

With the fine automatically went the penalty of being denied the privilege of obtaining a license to hunt for three years.

Monday evening Judge Stephens accepted at his home the guilty plea of Theodore Kralik who on September 19 had been arrested by Conservation Officer Ernest Derwin and charged with having a gun in his possession in a game area during the fifteen day period immediately preceding the open season. He was fined $10 and $8.50 costs.

On Monday afternoon Don LaBrasseur pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving and was fined $25 and $5 costs. The incident causing his arrest occurred on September 20 and involved a minor accident. State Police made the arrest.

Seventy-three million life insurance policy holders owned an aggregate of 176,657,000 policies in United States insurance companies at the close of 1946.

Republicans Hold County Convention Delegates Chosen

Schoolcraft county Republicans held a convention at the court house Monday for the purpose of selecting delegates to the state Republican convention in Detroit on Saturday, September 25.

Mrs. Mae LaVigne presided as chairman at the meeting and Mrs. Hildred Taylor as secretary.

Named as delegates were Thomas J. Mahoney and J. Joseph Herbert of Manistique and Maxine Heath of Germfask. Alternates named were R. D. Curley, Mae LaVigne, Emery Barnes, William J. Sheahan and Hildred Taylor of Manistique; John Lustila and Dave Morrison, Germfask and James Roushorn, Blaney.

Every township was represented at the local meeting.

Local Resident Recently Wed In Minneapolis

Of interest to local residents is news of the wedding of Miss Helen Franki of Minneapolis, daughter of Mrs. Sophia Franki of New York Mills, Minn., and David Swanson, of Chicago, son of Mrs. Hannah Swanson, Alger avenue, of this city. The ceremony was performed on Saturday afternoon, September 18 at 4 o'clock in the Lake Harriet Lutheran church in Minneapolis.

They were attended by Mrs Joseph Mattson of Menning, Minn., sister of the bride, and Edward Swanson, of this city, brother of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony, a reception for 100 guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gross, with whom the bride has made her home since being employed in Minneapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Swanson will make their home in Chicago at 6431 Stewart Avenue, South.

Out-of-town guests attending were Mrs. Hannah Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Swanson and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nelson of this city, and Miss June Wicklund of St. Paul, Minn.

AGED GERMFASK MATRON PASSES

Services For Mrs. I. Spencer Thursday

Mrs. Isabell Spencer, 95, mother of Charles Hancock, of this city, passed away Tuesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Conlon, with whom she had resided for many years. Enjoying health remarkable for one of her advanced years, she had been ill for only a few weeks.

Mrs. Spencer was born in Lapeer county, Michigan, on July 11 1858 and came to Germfask from North Branch, in 1905, residing there ever since.

Surviving her are two sons, Charles Hancock, of Manistique; William Hancock of Munising, a daughter, Mrs. Frank Conlon, Germfask; 12 grandchildren and 27 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, at the Morton funeral home. The Rev. Paul Sobel will conduct the rites and burial will be in Fairview cemetery. The family has requested that flowers be omitted.

City Briefs

Mrs. Fred Fitch left Tuesday for Kingsland, Ga., where she will visit with her grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McDill, and in Savannah, Ga., with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dumond. She will spend the winter months there.

Miss Nettie McLeod, sister of Mrs. J. Joseph Herbert, of Newberry, is a patient at the Shaw hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wendland have moved from North Fourth street to their new residence at Manistique Heights where they are operating a home for convalescents and aged.

Found Place Where Blue Ox Was Stabled

W. M. Woodard, who is perhaps the oldest native inhabitant in the Manistique area, is a gardener of the old school. He doesn't use artificial fertilizer—in fact he didn't even use manure in that garden of his at the Tannery Location. And he has had good results.

While digging his potatoes Monday he came upon one hill that yielded six large potatoes, one of which weighed more than a pound and three which has a combined weight of two pounds and eight ounces. The yield generally has been heavy.

Prohibition Head Speaks At School

Claude Watson, candidate for president of the United States on the Prohibition party ticket, is scheduled to fill a speaking engagement at the high school auditorium here Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Watson will speak on the theme "God's Plan for Good Government," which will be an enlargement on Prohibition party platform.

A licensed pilot, he is making his presidential campaign tour by plane.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Joseph A. Mercier, who went home one year ago today, September 22, 1947.

We haven't forgotten today is the day,
Life is so lonely, since you are away.
We shall remember you, as long as there are fields of snow,
And there are flowers in the ground, that have the strength to grow.
As long as there are stars above and moonbeams on the sea
And just as long as there are songs of love and memory.
We shall remember you today and dream of you tonight
And look for you tomorrow when the sun begins to light.
Whatever season, month or year this much will be the same:
The only joy will be the mention of your name.
We shall remember you as long as there is earth and sky.
And all the time eternity may take to say goodbye.

Sadly missed by his family: Wife, Lionel, Marvin, Gladys and Family.

Eskymos Shoot For 3rd Win Against Norway; 'Stique At Gladstone

GAMES THIS WEEK
Friday
Iron Mountain at Stambaugh, night.
Saturday
Escanaba at Norway.
Manistique at Gladstone.
Munising at Negaunee.
Menominee at Kingsford, night.
Soo at Newberry.
Ishpeming at Marquette.
Iron River at Niagara.
Hancock at Calumet.
Rhinelander at Marinette, night.
Sunday
Bark River-Harris at Escanaba St. Joe.

Escanaba Eskymos, who leaped into prominence in Upper Peninsula high school football circles with successive one-sided victories over Sault Ste. Marie and Ironwood—the Blue and Red Devils, respectively, if you will—face their stiffest assignment of the season to date when they journey to Norway Saturday afternoon to tackle a potent Viking eleven.

The Eskymos point to a 20-7 victory over Soo and a 24-6 triumph over Ironwood but full well do they realize they will have to be hep to the task at hand to take the Vikings. Full well do they realize that these Vikings are the team that spanked the Eskymos soundly in a surprise win here last fall.

The Vikings gained a 6-6 tie with Stambaugh in the season opener and last Saturday lost by 7-0 to a very strong Iron River team. It was a Norway fumble that set up the Iron River touchdown early in the game and from that point on the Vikings held off all Red Skin scoring thrusts.

That 6-6 tie with Stambaugh brings no discredit on the Vikings either. Stambaugh is one of the top teams of the U. P. without a doubt, after beating Negaunee, 12-6, tying Norway and walloping Bessemer, 26-6.

So it is with these thoughts in mind that the Eskymos have been hitting the practice field with vengeance this week. They want no letdown in the commendable spirit, fight and aggressiveness that have carried them to victories thus far over heavier opponents.

Meanwhile, the Gladstone Braves will be host to an undefeated Manistique Emerald eleven Saturday afternoon. If Gladstone wins, it will be its first triumph and Manistique's first loss.

Munising invades Negaunee Saturday, and Sunday afternoon Bark River-Harris, playing its first season of football, will journey to Escanaba to meet the Escanaba St. Joseph Trojans.

BRAVES GIRD FOR EMERALDS

Keil Likes Spirit Of Inexperienced Team

Gladstone, Sept. 21—Gladstone high school's Braves return to Marble Athletic field this weekend to meet the high-riding Manistique high school in their annual gridiron battle.

Coach Eldon Keil and members of his staff indicated they were not too disappointed in the outcome of the Munising game last weekend for they were beaten by a better-manned, veteran eleven.

The local mentor said that as the game progressed he could see the Braves getting better and getting 'the feel' of the game. What particularly elated him was the fact that his charges, even when four touchdowns behind, did not quit but were "talking it up' and trying to the best of their ability.

He said that if this continues some of the elevens which think they have soft picking when they meet the Braves this fall are in for a surprise.

He tried out a number of reserves against Munising and said that there probably will be several changes in the starting lineup this weekend.

With one exception the players came out of the Munising game in good physical condition and the injury received by the one player will not keep him out of the game on Saturday.

Morale High

Manistique, Sept. 21—Highly elated over the results of their three victories, two of which had been generally conceded to the opposition, the Manistique Emeralds are out to make it four straight when they buck up against Gladstone at Gladstone Saturday.

The Emeralds went through the hard fought Negaunee game Friday night without any injuries and the team generally is in fine form, but Coach Hilton Ponto is taking no chances that the team lose because of over confidence.

British Sport Scribes Extremely Awed At Boxer's Feeble Show

London, Sept. 22 (AP)—America's Lee Oma, flattened last night by British heavyweight champion Bruce Woodcock, was given further pummeling by the London Press today.

Sports writers, taking up the boos of the sellout crowd of 10,700 at Oma's feeble showing, rolled out such verbal punches as these:

Daily Express—Oma "did nothing but throw a few swings with the force of a whitewash brush on a wall."

Daily Mail— "It was plainly ridiculous."

News Chronicle—"Who let Mr. Lee Oma in here?"

Times—"He was not properly fighting fit."

Oma, whose purse was reported to be $16.000, commented: "I was terrible. Now I'll have to get a job."

The crowd clapped, stomped, sang and tossed pennies into the ring for amusement before Woodcock's cautious slowly developed attack finished off a defenseless Oma in the fourth of a scheduled eight round fight.

CMCE WINS

Mt. Pleasant, Mich., Sept. 22 (AP)—Paced by flashy halfback Mike Yedanik, Central Michigan's football squad opened its 1948 season with a 27 to 6 victory over Ferris Institute last night.

All Calm At Briggs As Bosox Check Out And The A's Arrive

Detroit, Sept. 22 (AP)—A measure of calm came back to Briggs stadium and the Detroit Tigers today as the American league flag fight moved out and the fourth place Philadelphia Athletics arrived for a three-game series with little or no bearing on the standings.

The Tigers' lop-sided 10 to 2 lacing at the hands of the league-leading Boston Red Sox yesterday wiped out the last vestige of mathematical chance that Detroit could climb into the first division.

Philadelphia, sunk solidly in fourth, can't advance unless the Cleveland Indians or New York flop abruptly and completely.

With their positions in the standings settled, little hinged on today's series opener except the fate of Hal Newhouser in his last ditch quest for a place among the year's 20-game winners.

Newhouser, trying for his 19th victory against 11 defeats, opposed Phil Marchildon of the A's.

Boston left town last night a full game in front of second place Cleveland and it must be said the Tigers weren't begging the Red Sox to stay around.

A six-run explosion in the third inning carried the league leaders to their 15th victory over Detroit in their 22 meetings this year. Three Tiger pitchers went to the firing line during the uprising and all were treated with equal disdain.

Cards, Brooks Near Exit With Double Defeats

Indian Victory Tonight Would Tie It Up

By Ralph Roden
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Boston Braves can clinch their first pennant in 34 years today but the baseball spotlight will be centered on Cleveland where the Indians tackle the Boston Red Sox with first place in the American League at stake.

Billy Southworth's Braves, who have had the National League pennant virtually sewed up for weeks, can mathematically win it today by beating the St. Louis Cardinals providing the runnerup Brooklyn Dodgers bow to Pittsburgh.

The Braves virtually killed off the remaining pennant hopes of both the Cards and Dodgers yesterday, taking a twin bill from the Red Birds, 11-3 and 4-0, while the Dodgers bowed, 12-11 and 6-3 to Pittsburgh.

Big Brave Lead

The Braves now lead the Dodgers by seven and one half games. Both teams have nine games left to play. The Cards are eight games back with 10 to go and a loss today will knock them out.

The American League leading Red Sox are only a game in front of the runnerup Indians who have won their last six starts. A Cleveland victory tonight would put the two teams in a flat footed tie for the lead. A Boston triumph would jump the Red Sox two games ahead with only eight games left to play for each team.

Bob Feller (16-14) who has been pitching great ball since late August, will start for Cleveland against Boston's Joe Dobson (16-8).

Johnny Sain, the Braves' star righthander and Rookie Vern Bickford, turned back the Cardinals on nine and four hits respectively. Sain's victory was his 22nd—top mark in either league.

Finally Finished It

The Cards nicked Sain for two runs in the first inning but the Braves came back with one in their half and drove Red Munger to cover with four more the second to win going away. The Braves clinched the nightcap triumph early, scoring three times in the opening frame to rout Lefty Howie Pollet.

Pittsburgh's 12-11 win over Brooklyn completed a game that began in Pittsburgh on Aug. 25 when a ninth inning protest by the Pirates was upheld.

The game was resumed with the Pirates at bat, three runs behind, two out, runners on first and third, Ed Brockman up with a 3-1 count and Carl Erskine pitching. Erskine walked Bockman to load the bases and Hank Behrman took over. Stan Rojek then broke up the game with a base clearing double.

In the regular scheduled game that followed little Vic Lombardi held his former Dodger mates to five hits in picking up his ninth victory.

The New York Giants and the Chicago Cubs divided a day-night doubleheader by identical 3-2 scores. Johnny Mize clouted his 38th homer with two on.

Andy Pafko's three-run ninth inning homer enabled the Cubs to grab the nightcap and end a 10 game losing streak.

The Cincinnati Reds and the Philadelphia Phillies also split a day-night twin bill. The Reds won the first game 6-5 and the Phils took the nightcap, 6-1.

Baseball Stars Of Yesterday

Batting

Andy Pafko, Cubs—Socked his 25th homer with two on and two out in the ninth to give Chicago 3-2 win in night portion of day-night doubleheader over New York and end 10-game Chicago losing streak.

Pitching

Johnny Sain, Braves—Became first pitcher in majors to win 22 games as he pitched pennant bound Boston to 11-3 victory over St. Louis in first game of twin bill. Helped his own cause, driving in two runs, scoring two and collecting two hits.

WATCH THE SPINNER

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 22 (AP)—The spinning fullback—key to Michigan's intricate football attack—will determine much of the Wolverine success this Fall. The leading candidate, stocky Tom Peterson, will be watched closely in the opener against Michigan State Saturday to see how he performs the elaborate series of spins, fakes and handoffs that made his predecessor, Jack Weisenburger, so outstanding.

BAREFOOT BOY—Arizona's sophomore fullback, Tom Carpenter, kicks 60 yards with his bare foot. He's from Honolulu, of course.

Writer Likes Irish Over Purdue; Badgers, Illini And--Well, Sure---U-M

By Jerry Liska

Chicago, Sept. 22 (AP)—First flush of autumnal madness, picking the winners of the Midwest's football games Saturday:

Notre Dame 20, Purdue 13—The Irish played mostly last season just enough to win. This year, without Johnny Lujack, George Connor and Ziggy Czarobski, they'll have to go all stops out on several sorties to cop. The Boilermakers look like Frank Leahy's biggest headache, but we like the Luck O' the Irish. And it's tough to vote for experimental Notre Dame quarterbacking over Purdue's Bob De Moss.

Wisconsin 24, Indiana 12—New Hoosier Coach Clyde Smith may fool us, but we think Big Nine grid brawling will surprise him more. Last year these two clubs played a 7-7 tie, but the current Badgers are sniffing roses (Pasadena variety) and have a favoring schedule and solid enough personnel to be a front runner.

Northwestern 30, UCLA 20 — The UCLAns have the advantage of a one game start, a 48-26 romp over Washington State, but they'll be colliding with the Big Nine's choicest conference dark horse in the Wildcats.

Michigan 28, Michigan State 14 —This should be a good scrap for the first half. But Wolverine Reserves will tell the story, as they have most of the years of this snappy state rivalry, excepting when Johnny Pingel was in the Spartan saddle. The game should go a long way towards proving how well new mentor Benny Oosterbann has patched the gap left by departure of Bob Chappuis, Bump Elliott, Jack Weisenburger and Howard Yerges from Fritz Crisler's Rose Bowl champs.

Minnesota 13, Washington 7 — They're booming Bernie Bierman's Gophers as a Big Nine title threat, but this game always has been a toughie for Minnesota.

Illinois 45, Kansas State 6 — Kansas State which has lost 26 consecutive games isn't going to snap the skein unless the Illini forget to dress up for the game.

Missouri 14, Ohio State 7—Don Faurot's Tigers rate as the No. 1 contenders for the Big Seven crown and Wes esler's Buckeyes are tabbed for a deep second division spot in the Big Nine.

Iowa 27, Marquette 7 — The Hilltoppers will be well out of their class against the Hawkeyes, who may throw some trouble at careless Big Nine colleagues this fall.

Macklin Finds MSC-UM Tilt Is Big Moment

East Lansing, Sept. 22 (AP)—When John F. Macklin returns to East Lansing Saturday to see Michigan State College's football stadium dedicated to him for the third time in 24 years, he'll realize a life-long dream.

Macklin, who played his football for the University of Pennsylvania early in this century, was Michigan State's third football coach. He is credited with first bringing the Michigan Aggies into national football prominence.

Aggie (now Spartan) teams flourished under Macklin during his five year tenure (1911-1915). They won 29 games, lost only five and tied none.

Macklin wanted his Aggies to be known throughout the football world. He scheduled such teams as Ohio State, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Oregon State and Marquette University—and beat some of them. Memorable victories are the 35-20 edge over O. S. U. In 1912, the 12-7 beating of Wisconsin in 1913, the 12-7 licking of Michigan the same year, the 6-3 edge over Penn State in 1914, and the 67-6 shellacking of Marquette in 1915.

The latter victory was Macklin's last in the coaching business. He became a Philadelphia coal mine and railroad industrialist, and has gone to the top in that line. But he always kept Michigan State—and especially Michigan State football—in his heart.

Fifth Fighter Dies Of Ring Injuries

Philadelphia, Sept. 22 (AP)—Bill (Chicken) Thompson, 21-year-old Philadelphia heavyweight, died last night of head injuries sustained last Thursday in a "comeback" fight against Johnny Haynes of New York.

Thompson, the fifth fighter to die of ring injuries this year in the United States, was knocked out by Haynes with only three seconds remaining of their scheduled eight-round bout at Toppi Stadium.

Sports Mirror

Today a year ago—Brooklyn clinched the National league pennant as St. Louis lost to Chicago while the Dodgers were idle.

Three years ago—Cpl. Charley Ward of Britain's Royal Air Force won the British PGA golf tournament with a 72 hole total of 298.

Five years ago—Pitcher Jim Bagby, objecting to Lou Boudreau's criticism and discipline, asked Cleveland to make a deal for him.

Ten years ago—Bill Lee of Chicago pitchd his fourth sucessive shutout, against Philadelphia, equalling the National league record.

Scribes Get Crying Towels Out for Grid Mentors in Michigan

Detroit, Sept. 22 (AP)—The old crying towel was still wringing wet today as Michigan sports writers looked through sympathetic moist eyes toward the first big week-end of the 948 football season, as previewed by the coaches.

Wally Weber, multisyllabic freshman coach at the University of Michigan, wept in a few well chosen words of 16 or more letters each over backfield losses from Michigan's unbeaten Rose Bowl champions of last season.

Weber shovel-passed the crying towel down the line to Leverne (Kip) Taylor, end coach at Michigan State under Clarence (Biggie) Munn.

"Two weeks ago we thought we had a good chance to beat Michigan," Taylor said, wiping away a tear. "But that was before we were hit by a flock of costly injuries. Now, with seven or eight men out of the picture—at least for opening week—we don't know."

Eddie Barbour, University of Detroit backfield coach, drew more tears from the sympathetic gathering as he pointed out the Titans will be without four key backs for their Friday night opener with University of Toledo.

COOKS TIPS 'STIQUE

Manistique, Sept. 22—Cooks of the Bay de Noc league swamped Manistique of the Rainbow league, 13-1, in a return exhibition game. Cooks scored seven runs in the fourth inning. Johnson, and Swagart hit homers for the victors.

Cerdan Takes Zale's Hardest Punches And Survives To Win Title

Tired Tony Collapses After 11th

Former Champ, 34, May Be All Through

Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 22 (AP)—Marcel Cerdan, a laughing Latin from Casablanca, is the new middleweight champion of the world, because he took Tony Zale's body bombs and kept punching.

In the fourth round of last night's title fight at Roosevelt stadium, it looked as though Zale was about to tear apart the 32-year-old Tiger of France. Cerdan winced and blinked his eyes as Tony landed a blockbuster under the heart. But he didn't go down.

Marcel Cerdan

That was where Zale lost his title and Cerdan, a product of wartime France, saw the way clear to realizing the lifetime ambition.

Once Zale had shot his heaviest artillery he had nothing left. Cerdan hooked to the head, led with his right, feinted the fading Champ into schoolboy errors and trussed him up for the kill.

Zale Is Tired

Zale was a tired old man of 34. Dead on his feet and with no zip left in his punches from the fifth round on. Only the fierce pride of a champion kept him off the floor until he collapsed—as the New Jersey official physician said "from exhaustion"—just after the bell ended the 11th round.

The Frenchman seemed a bit surprised to see him tumble. For the last few blows to the head had been no harder than a hundred others he had thrown during the chilly evening. Co-manager Art Winch and trainer Ray Arcel dragged Zale to his corner like a sack of potatoes. Then Winch and his partner, Sam Pian, signalled Referee Paul Cavalier he could not continue.

Under New Jersey rules they went through with the formality of ringing the bell for the 12th and announcing that he had been knocked out in 12, but it didn't matter. Tony could do no more fighting that evening—and maybe never.

Appears Finished

Although Zale and his managers hesitate to make it official, asking for a few days to "make up our minds," it was apparent to most of the crowd of 19,272 which paid a sub-par gate of $242,870 that Tony was all finished.

Next in line for Cerdan is supposed to be a return bout with Zale, but that may never happen. The Frenchman's contract for last night's scrap included a little "gimmick" that called for him to defend his title, if he won it, in either Chicago, New York or New Jersey before October, 1949. Zale was to be given preference as the foe.

He Lost French Title First!

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 22 (AP)—Marcel Cerdan, the guy who looked so easy to hit when he was in training, kept his chin tucked under his left shoulder and his right elbow low by his side when he faced Tony Zale last night . . . Tony spent eleven rounds trying to find a target for his celebrated body punches and wore himself out in the effort . . . That's about all that happened in last night's middleweight title fight . . . Heck, with more than 600 cops on hand, what else could happen? . . . Al Weill, who specializes in profitably picking short-enders, picked Cerdan while he (Al, that is) was in the hospital, with very happy results . . . Of course, Marcel isn't French champion any more; he's just world champion . . . as far as he's concerned, the title in his native land amounts to about as much as the championship of Upper Darby township. But that still is an unusual situation.

If Spirit Would Do It, We'd Be In: Biggie Munn

East Lansing, Sept. 22 (AP)—"If spirit would beat Michigan, I wouldn't have a worry in the world."

That's how Clarence I. (Biggie) Munn, head coach at Michigan State college, feels about Saturday's opener with the University of Michigan.

"Those boys are the most solid bunch as far as spirit goes as I could ask for," Munn declared after Tuesday's "scrimmageless" practice session. "We could use more strength on the line and we could stand some more scrimmage work, but I don't dare risk further injuries."

Munn announced after the practice that "the rough work is over." The announcement was received with a sigh of relief from his tired players.

Escanaba Golf Club To Hold Men's Stag Saturday Afternoon

A men's stag nine-hole handicap medal tournament will be held at the Escanaba Golf club next Saturday afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock, it was announced yesterday by the tournament committee headed by Pat McPherson.

Five-man teams have been organized to compete for prizes. The net score of each competitor will be used to tally the team net score, total medal for the nine-hole event.

"This should prove to be a very interesting tournament," Pro Don Feller said this morning. "One team will be composed of doctors; another of attorneys; another of insurancemen; another of dentists, and so forth. All others of course also will be grouped on teams to compete for the prizes."

Dinner will be served after the tourney, and games and other entertainment are being arranged.

United States families received $2,792,724,000 from their life insurance companies during 1946.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the sympathy and kindness extended to us in our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved wife and mother.
Signed:
GEORGE WILTSIE
AND CHILDREN.
4648-266-1t

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to all the kind relatives, neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and father, Joseph Lasnoski. We are very grateful to those who served as pallbearers, sent floral and spiritual bouquets, donated the use of their cars and to all others who aided us in so many ways. The memory of these acts of kindness will always remain with us.
Signed:
MRS. ALEXANDRINE LASNOSKI
AND FAMILY.
4643-266-1t

It is with a feeling of sincere gratitude that we take this means of expressing our deep appreciation and thanks to all of our neighbors, relatives and friends for their kindnesses shown us in our recent sad bereavement, the death of my beloved husband, Harold Cousineau. We are very grateful to those who served as pallbearers, to those who offered the use of their cars, sent flowers and spiritual bouquets and to all others who in any way helped to lighten our burden of sorrow. Your kindness will always be held in grateful remembrance.
Signed:
MRS. VIOLET COUSINEAU,
MR. AND MRS. Z. DEROUIN.

Bag Limit Raised For Ruffed Grouse In Upper Peninsula

Lansing, (AP)— Conservation department observers Tuesday reported their estimate that there were four times as many ruffed grouse in the Upper Peninsula as in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula.

During a summer survey, field men observed 1,047 broods in the Upper Peninsula and 293 below the Straits, it was reported.

The birds become legal game in the Upper Peninsula Oct. 1. The season ends there Oct. 20. In the Lower Peninsula, the season runs from Oct. 15 to Nov. 5.

The increase has permitted the raising of the daily bag limit in the Upper Peninsula from three to five, possession limit to 10, and season limit to 25.

In the Lower Peninsula, the daily bag is limited to three, possession six and season 15.

AIR SERVICE STARTS OCT. 1

Menominee, Iron Mt. On New Route

Menominee, Sept. 21—Additional airline service for Menominee starting Oct. 1 including daily air mail and express service, was indicated today with announcement that Wisconsin Central Airlines and Brown (Green Bay) county officials had reached an agreement in a contract for use of the new $1,000,000 airport near Depere by the airline.

Service to Menominee, Iron Mountain and Houghton by Wisconsin Central has been deferred pending completion of the Green Bay airport.

According to plans, this service will be inaugurated on Oct. 1 with two southbound and one northbound flights daily. The southbound flights for Milwaukee and Chicago will leave Menominee about 9 a. m. and 3 p. m., while the northbound flight for St. Paul and Minneapolis will leave here about 12 noon.

Wisconsin Central Airlines will extend commercial service to Escanaba this fall, as soon as the runway extension and paving progress now under way is completed by C. G. Bridges, the contractor. This work is expected to be finished this fall, but probably not by October 1, when the service to Menominee, Iron Mountain and Houghton will be inaugurated.

Prohibitionists Pick Gubernatorial Choice

Lansing, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Prohibition party in a one-day convention here yesterday officially chose Gordon Phillips, Detroit Methodist worker, its nominee for governor.

Officially confirming selections made several weeks ago, the party delegates named the balance of their slate as Perry Hayden of Tecumsen, lieutenant governor; E. Harold Munn of Hillsdale, secretary of state; LeRoy B. Mc Inally, attorney general, and Decil Clapp, state treasurer.

The party's nominee for president, Dr. Claude A. Watson of Los Angeles, addressed the convention. He declared that both major parties "have failed miserably in their service to the American people."

Phillips, who key-noted the campaign, said that "men who shove alcohol across counters to men and women—for a price—are no better than murderers."

Army Wants 15,000 December Draftees

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP) — The defense department said today it has asked Selective Service to provide 15,000 draftees for the Army in December. This is an increase of 5,000 over the first call for November.

The increase is in line with a previous announcement that monthly quotas would start at about 10,000 rise to about 30,000 by next year as the Army builds toward its authorized strength of 870,000.

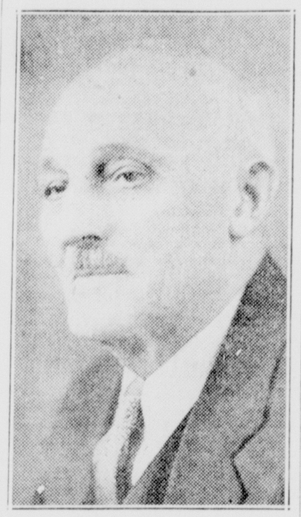
E. J. Bergman, 84, Bark River Banker, To Retire



The retirement from the Bark River State Bank of E. J. Bergman, 84, one of its original founders in 1910, was announced today. His retirement is effective Oct. 1.

Mr. Bergman is cashier, and his son, Roy A. Bergman, assistant cashier. Both are to leave the bank that the elder Bergman has been closely associated with since it was founded 38 years ago.

The new officers will be William Boyle, cashier, and Bertil E. Erickson, executive vice president.

Mr. Bergman has been active in the business, industrial and agricultural life of the Bark River community for many years. He was born in Little Suamico, Wis., March 23, 1864, and came to Bark River 60 years ago.

In 1883 he entered the employment of the Chicago & North Western railroad and was telegraph operator and station agent at Bark River and Narenta for ten years. He was engaged in the logging business with the late John Gasman as a partner to 1919; and with Ole Harsted organized the Bark River Bridge & Equipment company in 1906. Bergman sold his interest in the latter enterprise in 1919.

The Bark River State Bank was organized in 1910 by Bergman, Harsted, and the late J. B. Frechette, John Gasman and J. H. Boyle.

In addition to his other interests Mr. Bergman operates a large dairy farm at Bark River.

Kleiman On Karas Coached Eleven At Ferris Institute

Big Rapids, Sept. 22—Frank Karas, former Escanaba resident, is assistan t coach of football, baseball, basketball and golf at Ferris Institute.

Karas has a number of Northern Michigan boys out for his gridiron machine and among those likely to get right into the opening game are Bill Donovan of Norway, a 225 pound left tackle, who made such a great showing last year when the Ferris Bulldogs won six, lost two and tied one game.

Harold Kleiman of Bark River, who also beats the 200 pound mark is expected to start at fullback. Like Donovan he was on the team last year.

Paul Wiseman, fast stepping right end, hails from Marquette where he played under Coach Roger Keast, Claude Brown of St. Ignace is another fullback, tipping the scales around 200 pounds. John Warmington of Iron River, first string starting center, is here for his second season. He runs the scales up around 215 pounds.

$60,000 Holdup Of Carolina Bank

Columbia, N. C., Sept. 22 (AP)—Five men were in custody today in connection with the $60,000 holdup of the eastern North Carolina bank at Columbia.

More than $58,000 was recovered in the capture of three Negroes in a nearby swamp last night, according to Charles W. Brown, special agent in charge of the Charlotte Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Two white men were arrested earlier yesterday a few hours after the bank was held up shortly before noon.

Hospital Officials See Double: 6 Twins

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 22 (AP)—Nurses and doctors at Butterworth hospital here are seeing double these days.

In the last five days, five sets of twins have been delivered at the hospital. Then just before midnight Tuesday Mrs. Loran Everett of Grand Rapids brought twin production to an even dozen when she gave birth to a boy and a girl.

Man Gets in Pickle By Swapping Pickles

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 22 (AP)—Alphonse Letendre, 21, is in a pretty pickle.

He told a local court yesterday he stole a 40-gallon barrel of tomato pickles from a warehouse. Not liking their flavor, he said, he returned to exchange them for a barrel of dills. Nabbed on the second trip, he was sentenced to six months in jail.

GREEN SLEEP

Portland, Ore., Sept. 22 (AP)—That long wait for the traffic light to turn green got the best of Frank A. Staeger, 31. When the light changed, Staeger's car didn't move. Other motorists honked horns. Still his car didn't move. Police found Staeger sound asleep at the wheel.

MRS. KASENKINA BETTER

New York, Sept. 22 (AP) — Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina, the 52-year-old Russian school teacher who leaped from a third floor window of the Soviet consulate on Aug. 12 was reported in good condition today. She slept well last night and her temperature early today was 99.6 degrees—only slightly above normal — officials at Roosevelt hospital reported.

BOYS IN THEFT RING

Detroit, (AP)—Police in suburban Hamtramck have arrested nine teen-aged youths for questioning regarding a six-month-old theft ring said to have netted $10,000. Four of the nine arrested are juveniles.

Officers Investigate Murder Of Girl, Dale

Clues Sought In Brutal Shooting, Beating

Glen Burnie, Md., Sept. 22. (AP)—Police sifted dozens of clues today in the brutal double murder of 18-year-old Mary C. Kline and her date, but said none of them gave any indication of a possible suspect.

A road worker stumbled onto the bruised bodies of Miss Kline and John H. Mahlan, a 25-year-old postal clerk, Monday. That ended a dramatic search of the surrounding countryside by authorities and hundreds of volunteers which had begun when Mahlan's bloodstained car was found Saturday.

Autopsies showed that both had been shot through the head.

Mary s face nad been beaten in. Long scratches were on her thighs. Police said a formal report from the medical examiner sometime today would tell whether she had been raped.

Clues were numerous—but they did not point to a definite person or persons. They did not even show for certain where the Glen Burnie couple had died.

Police said three flattened bullets may show whether one or more persons took part in the killings, which Police Chief John H. Souers termed the county's "most brutal in many, many years."

Rennebohm Opposes Thompson In Badger State Governor Race

Milwaukee, Sept. 22 (AP)—A 59-year-old drug chain owner and a 34-year-old former army sergeant will fight it out for Wisconsin's governorship in November.

The odds will be overwhelmingly in favor of the drug executive, Oscar Rennebohm, the present chief executive and the Republican party victor in Wisconsin's primary election yesterday.

His opponent will be Carl W. Thompson, young Stoughton attorney and hope of the Democrats.

The Republican primary produced only one upset, the unseating in his race for renomination of Rep. William H. Stevenson, third district representative for eight years. He trailed former Congressman Gardner Withrow by 1,300 votes with only five of the district's 372 precincts missing.

Russia Does Not Have Atomic Bomb, UN Official Says

Paris, Sept. 22 (AP) — Russia probably has not yet produced an atom bomb, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton said last night. He indicated it might take the Soviets another five years to make one.

McNaughton, Canada's representative on the United Nations Atomic Energy commission, said in an interview that "we are quite certain Russia has not yet produced an atomic bomb."

"The United States, Britain and Canada have leadership in atomic energy developments despite feverish Russian attempts to produce a bomb of their own," he said.

"There is no cause now for hysteria. We have a short time—perhaps five years—in which to reach a system on international atomic control before a time for hysteria really arrives."

American Killed by Arabs in Israeli

Tel Aviv, Israel, Sept. 22. (AP)—The Israeli government announced that Arabs today ambushed a Jewish convoy to Jerusalem which included a white United Nations jeep killing an American technician and three Jews.

United Nations headquarters identified the American as John Locke Lewis of Philadelphia, Pa. He was said to have come here as a consultant on railways only a few days ago.

AIR LIFT AWARDS

Wiesbaden, Germany, Sept. 22 (AP)—About 350 American airmen who have completed 50 or more missions on the Berlin air lift will receive certificates from the U. S. Air Force.

Bean Harvest Paces Michigan Farm Work

U. P. Threshing Of Small Grain Nearly Done

Lansing, Sept. 22. (AP)—The bean harvest is leading Michigan farmers' rush of fall work, the federal-state crop reporting service said today.

The service estimated that half to three-quarters of the bean acreage has been harvested in major producing counties with good yields reported from early planted fields, but late fields suffering from the August drought.

Planting of winter wheat and rye was reported general last week except in the southern counties, and dry soil has delayed plowing and fitting on some farms.

The late potato harvest has begun in the northern commercial areas and threshing of small grains is nearly done in the Upper Peninsula, the service said.

In spite of dry weather the sugar beet crop still looks good, the report said, and the harvest will start about Oct. 1.

The service forecast that there will not be much corn crop damage from frost this year and that there will be more good quality grain corn than in recent years. About 70 per cent of the acreage is dented to mature and 20 to 25 per cent is in the hard dough stage.

Case Against ITU Nears Completion

Indianapolis, Sept. 22 (P)—The government may finish its federal court contempt case against the AFL International Typographical Union today.

Woodruff Randolph, the union's president, and possibly Larry Taylor, vice president, are due to be the final witnesses called by the National Labor Relations Board attorneys.

After the government rests, the ITU is to present defense to charges the union has persisted in seeking contract terms violating the Taft-Hartley labor law in negotiations with newspaper publishers despite Judge Luther M. Swygert's injunction against such practices.

A possible heavy fine against the union and its officers hangs in the balance in the case, plus an order to withdraw ITU sanction for composing room strikes against Chicago and Hammond, Ind., newspapers.

Two Confused Men Kill Cab Driver; Then Wonder Why

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 22 (AP)—Two confused young men were called before Municipal Judge Jay H. Payne today to face first degree murder charges in the slaying of a taxicab driver.

Prosecutor Douglas Reading obtained warrants yesterday against Kenneth Basha, 22, of Dearborn, and his 19-year-old companion, Willard Swartout of Willow Village, near Ypsilanti.

He said the pair, captured at their homes early yesterday morning, had admitted shooting Francis R. Andrews, 27, to death before daylight Monday in a fruitless holdup attempt.

"I shot him," the prosecutor quoted Basha as saying, "but I haven't any idea why. He didn't even know it was a stickup."

CAIRO EXPLOSION

Cairo, Sept. 22 (AP)—A heavy explosion shook the Mousky commercial district of Cairo today. First reports said the explosion, of undetermined origin, caused damage and casualties.

gusts above 75. Driving rain drenched the southern half of the peninsula.

William John Evans, 46, engineer at the Tatem Surf club on Miami Beach, was killed when blown from the roof of the five-story building.

Mrs. Ben J. Kincaid, 56, was electrocuted when she touched a live wire in the yard of her home in Coconut Grove, a Miami suburb.

Damage to Miami was limited to uprooted palm trees, broken power lines, smashed windows and billboards. Streets were flooded by torrential rains. Transportation was disrupted, schools remained closed and business suspended.

Building Damage

Miami Beach reported some show windows blown in, trees uprooted or snapped off by the gusty, twisting winds, and aluminum shutters torn off. A wall of a night club, being rebuilt, was flattened.

Rough water undermined a span of the MacArthur causeway connecting Miami and Miami Beach and the bridge was closed to traffic.

Reports of damage trickled in. Thirty privately owned boats were sunk, three navy craft damagd and two Coast Guard boats driven ashore at Key West. Houses were unroofed and water rose to a depth of three feet on the east side of the island.

All docks at Tavernier, midway down the Keys, were washed out. The Overseas highway from Miami to Key West was flooded and closed to traffic.

A small tornado, spawned by the hurricane, tore a path through a farming section near Homestead. It demolished a farmhouse, unroofed another and damaged several others. No persons were reported injured there.

The Miami weather bureau on the 17th floor of the Technical high school, developed leaks that caused chief storm forecaster Grady Norton to grab a mop.

STORM BRINGS SNOW

Miami, Fla., Sept. 22 (AP) — A survey of Red Cross shelters showed 8,300 refugees in the buildings, which were stocked stocked with sufficient food to feed 25,000 persons for two days.

Mrs. Catherine Fornshell and a group of persons sheltered in her home at Hialeah reported honest-to-goodness snow fell on her lawn and those of her neighbors. She insisted it was not hail or rain and said: "It's soft, not hard—real snow."

Cheers Meet Truman At Salt Lake City

GOP Would Stop Power Program, He Charges

Aboard The Truman Campaign Train, Sept. 22. (AP)—President Truman offered Western voters today what he said was a choice between the most ambitious irrigation and power development program ever devised and Republican "strangulation."

He carried his campaign into Nevada and California on the theme that a Democratic victory in November will mean "a glorious West with wealth and security for our people."

A major address before a cheering overflow crowd in Salt Lake City's Mormon Tabernacle set the tone for rear platform speeches at "whistle stops" enroute to addresses in Oakland and San Francisco tonight.

Tabernacle officials said 11,500 persons sat and stood within the building while a loud speaker carried the president's words to additional thousands in an assembly hall on the grounds.

Police Chief L. C. Crowther estimated at 40,000 the crowd which lined streets of the business district when thep resident paraded in to respond to whistles, cheers and handclapping.

"Your government," Mr. Truman declared, "is now planning the most ambitious irrigation development in all our history. The goal of our program is to bring every possible western acre under irrigation and to develop to the fullest extent the hydro electric resources of this region.

"I'm going to fight for this program with all I've got. Can I count on you?"

Then, when the applause had died down, he asserted: "A vote for the Republicans stops the program."

Pamela Undergoes Her 1st Operation

Chicago, Sept. 22 (AP)—Pamela Lamphere, the baby with her bladder outside her body, today underwent her first of three operations to correct the rare condition.

An hour later physicians reported everything "going well."

The condition of Pamela, 22 months old had caused a rift between her parents, Fred, 23, and Irene 21. Physicians said the abnormality would be fatal unless she was operated upon.

The father wanted the operation but the mother said she preferred to have the child for the few years she was certain to live, instead of risking surgery.

The Lampheres became reconciled after Mrs. Lampere learned of other children who underwent similar successful operations.

Greater Escanaba Days Edition Heralds City's Expansion On Retail And Industrial Fronts

C-C And City Lure New Industry Here

Escanaba has led the way in the Upper Peninsula in the region's program to attract and develop new industries.

During World War II, Escanaba enjoyed an unprecedented boom with the building of the new docks to provide an alternative route for the shipping of ore from Lake Superior mines in the event of the enemy's destruction of the vital Sault locks.

But the boom was short-lived. As the Allies began pushing the Axis forces back, the military experts decided that the threat to ore shipping was no longer serious. The Escanaba ore dock project was abandoned.

Having tasted the fruits of boom employment, this community, under the leadership of the industrial committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce went out to get new industries, whose payrolls would offset an anticipated postwar slump.

Raised $40,000 Fund

A $40,000 industrial promotion fund was raised by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce. The old tannery building at Wells was purchased, and remodeled for occupancy by the Lambert Mirror company. But there were disappointments. The Lambert company vacated after several months. However, the Freeman Furniture company was induced to occupy the site. It provided employment for about a hundred persons until the plant was destroyed by fire. It was not rebuilt.

But while this was going on, the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and the City of Escanaba cooperated in other industrial ventures. The city council acquired the Pontiac garage building on Third avenue north, and remodeled it for use by the Venus Garment company, an industry now employing more than a hundred women.

Other Industries Came

The old C&NW railway blacksmith shop was acquired for the Solar Furniture company. Other industries began coming in. These included the Insulation Manufacturers company's wood wedge plant at the Birds Eye yards, Fence Company of America, Delta Furniture company, Hiawatha Manufacturing company, Hiawatha Plywood company, Northern Motor Rebuilders, the Worth company, and the Harnischfeger corporation.

The Escanaba Paper company division of the Mead corporation also spent several million dollars for new buildings and equipment to make possible the manufacture of a smooth-finish groundwood paper for Life magazine and other customers. In addition Escanaba's old standbys, the Birds Eye Veneer company and C&NW railway, have continued to furnish much employment.

The Worth company, which manufacturers fishing tackle at its Stevens Point, Wis., plants, ran into difficulties here, and now the plant is closed. Offsetting this disappointment, however, has been the expansion of the Harnischfeger corporation.

Harnischfeger corporation moved into the old Steele-Wallace building, where it now employs about sixty persons in the manufacture of electric welding equipment. Recently, it began construction of a large factory near the U. P. State Fair grounds for the manufacture of truck cranes and sugar cane loaders. The factory will be completed in December.

Escanaba's Advantages

Escanaba's success with industrial promotion has inspired other communities in the region to do likewise. The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau has established an industrial bureau, with Ben F. Clark, formerly of the Michigan Department of Economic Development, as manager. The Bureau recently issued a brochure, listing the industrial advantages of about forty U. P. communities.

Here is what the brochure said about Escanaba:

Geographical Location—Escanaba, the county seat of Delta county, is located on Little Bay De Noquet, a deep water harbor on Lake Michigan in the south central part of the Peninsula. The survey includes the towns of Wells, Gladstone, Bark River, Masonville, Rapid River and Delta county.

Production Materials—Escanaba is an important port and has available for production purposes both hardwood and soft pines. Peculiar to the area is birdseye maple. Ample supplies exist for industrial use. Delta County has a well-developed agricultural industry with potatoes, milk, hay and grain as the chief products. Large quantities of fresh water fish are taken from Lake Michigan.

Labor—About 750 men and 100 women are available to new industry. Skills are widely represented in woodworking, paper, metal working and garment manufacturing trades. Labor is organized and has been unusually cooperative and helpful toward management.

Sites—No industrial floor space is available at present but a number of sites ideally suited for industrial use are owned by the city and offer many improvements. Acreage near the city is practically unlimited.

Industrial Fuel—Coal is delivered by water with consequent savings in industrial prices, which range from $9 to $12 per ton. Fuel oil storage facilities amount to 950,000 gallons. The city makes gas of 530 BTU quality with a capacity of 18,000 cubic feet per hour.

Transportation Facilities — Escanaba is a division point for the Chicago and North Western Railroad. The Escanaba and Lake Superior Railroad maintains good connections with the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific and the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railroads. Excellent bus and truck service exists. A municipally-owned airport has facilities for all types of planes. Harbor and docking facilities are excellent.

Market—The retail trading area is of a 60-mile radius with 75,000 population and annual sales volume of $13,000,000. The wholesale sales value is $7,000,000.

Distribution Facilities — Adequate facilities exist for packing, crating, cold storage, warehousing, weighing and inspection. The three banks have a combined capital of $400,000, surplus of $550,000 and deposits of $17,498,225.

Power—The city distributes electricity purchased from a large public utiilty. The total generating capacity is 15,600 kilowatts and the present demand is 3,540 kilowatts. Load factor rate schedules are established.

Water—Deep wells have a rated pumping capacity of 4,500,000 gallons of water. The daily use is 2,500,000 gallons. Studies are under way to locate a more adequate supply. Quality is clear, pure and medium hard. Reserve pumps can provide 4,500,000 gallons daily of untreated Lake Michigan water. Rates range from 18c to 7c per 1,000 gallons.

Living Conditions—A continuing housing program is underway with 87 new units completed in the past year. The city has one of the finest educational systems in Michigan with three high schools, two junior high schools and eight grade schools.

Laws and Regulations—Escanaba has a council-manager form of government with a modern charter. There are no restrictive ordinances which might restrict industrial operations.

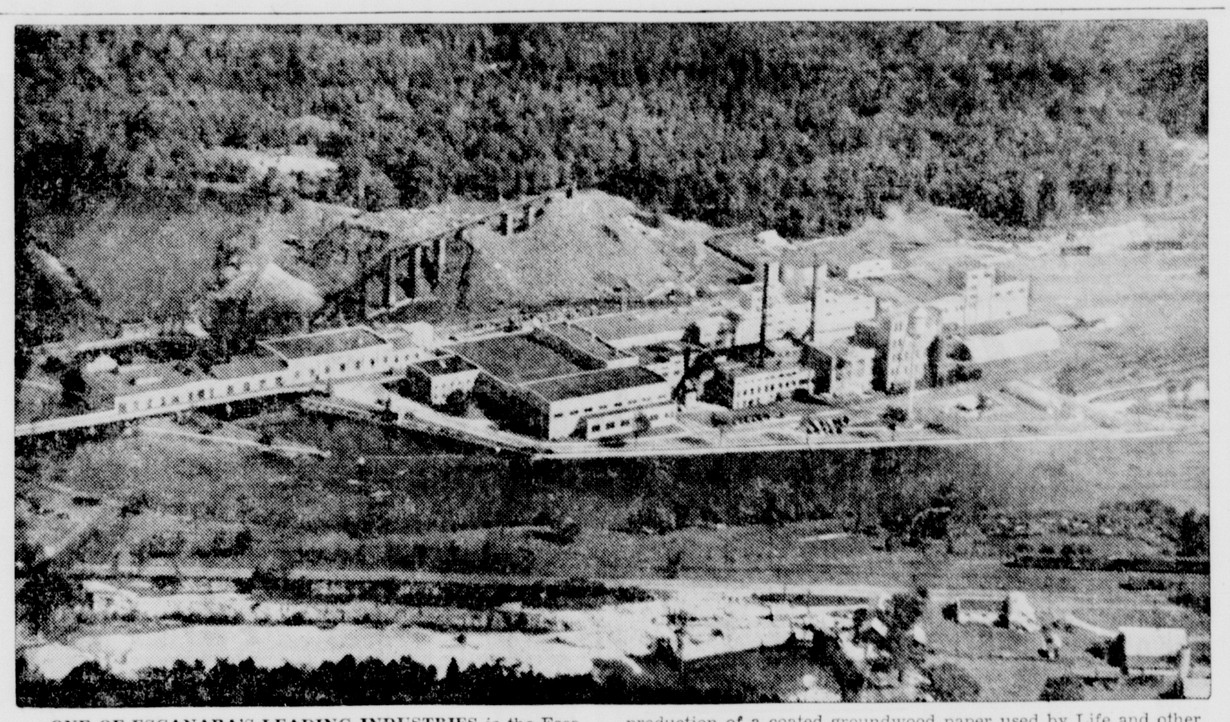
Tax Structure—The equalized valuation of the city is $12,070,000 and the county, $17,474,000. The total tax rate for all purposes is 31.28 mills. The schools have an indebtedness of $280,000 and the city of $55,000. Both are being liquidated within the tax rate just quoted.

Miscellaneous—There is a wide diversification of industry ranging from food processing through garment manufacturing with many different types of metal and woodworking.

An analysis of the community indicates that among others the following and similar types of industry might profitably locate here:

Dairy products.
Lithographing, book-binding and printing, where local market is not required.
Radar, television, radio and other communication equipment.
Metal novelties and specialties.
Prefabricated wooden buildings and frames.
Incidental wooden products: dishes, spoons, handles, bookends, novelties.
Luggage.
Small rubber goods and sundries.
Handbags and other small leather goods.
Many types of clothing.
Cleaning and polishing preparations.
Wood briquettes and packaged fuel.
Toys, games and children's vehicles.
Sporting goods and outdoor equipment.
Fabricated plastic products.
Hosiery mills.
Canned, cured and frozen fresh water fish.
Iron and semi-steel foundries.
Dimension stock.

For more detailed information write to: Secretary Chamber of Commerce, Escanaba, Michigan.



ONE OF ESCANABA'S LEADING INDUSTRIES is the Escanaba Paper company, an affiliate of the Mead corporation which owns and operates a chain of paper mills in various parts of the country. The Escanaba Paper company's mill at Groos underwent an extensive postwar expansion program, which included the construction of a new power plant and various buildings for the production of a coated groundwood paper used by Life and other magazines. While the pulp and paper mills are located at Groos, a couple miles outside the city limits, this industry is regarded as Escanaba's own, since most employes of the company reside in Escanaba.

Escanaba Paper Co. Undergoes Expansion

Back in 1892 when J. K. Stack and J. B. Moran started the Escanaba Electric Street Railway company, they probably had no thought of ever entering the paper business. Escanaba was growing. The street car company grew with it. By the early 1900's the original Corliss engine and generator could no longer keep pace with the increasing demands for power.

In 1907 M. N. Smith joined with Stack and Moran to meet this demand. There was, they reasoned, enough water going to waste down the Escanaba river to more than supply the street cars and the city combined. A hydro-electric plant was the obvious answer. It was only natural to carry this idea a step further and include the idea of using surplus power to grind pulpwood. Work was started immediately on the dam which is still in use just above the bridge on US-2. The Escanaba Electric Pulp and Power company was created to handle the construction work. Later this company merged with the old street railway company to form the Escanaba Traction company.

Pulp Production Started

It was not until 1911 that plans for entering the paper business began to take form. In that year work was begun on the No. 2 hydro-electric plant and the pulp mill. That same year the Escanaba Pulp and Paper company was formed with W. S. King, President, J. K. Stack, Vice President, M. N. Smith, Treasurer, and P. K. Utley, Secretary. In 1912 the first three grinders were started in the present pulp mill.

After the third hydro-electric plant was completed in 1914, plans were started for a paper mill to use the expanded production of groundwood pulp. In 1919 the Escanaba Paper Company was incorporated, taking over the assets of two earlier concerns. Stock was sold to the general public The Mead interests were first connected with the new project at this time through investments by the Mead Investment Company and through the design and construction work performed by the Mead Engineering and Development Company.

By the spring of 1920 both paper machines were in operation producing newsprint. That same year M. N. Smith became president of the company, a position he still holds. Under his direction the steam power plant was expanded and work was begun on the Boney Falls power development.

In 1922 J. H. Slater came to Escanaba as manager of the new company. Newsprint had been the sole product and continued to be until 1940 when production of wall paper was initiated. When Slater died in 1935, E. G. Bennett became mill manager. He has continued the program of improving equipment and expanding production of finer paper grades.

The Mead Corporation Finances Expansion

The association of The Mead corporation and the Escanaba Paper company which began in 1919 became closer in 1942. In that year The Mead corporation purchased the controlling interest in the local company. M. N. Smith remained as president of the Escanaba Paper company and accepted the additional responsibilities of a position on the board of directors of the parent concern.

Shortly after the change in ownership a major expansion program was initiated. Today new brick buildings along the Escanaba river almost completely hide the concrete walls of the original paper mill. A pulp storage building, coating building, boiler plant, finishing building and office have been constructed. New shops are in operation. One of the paper machines has been completely rebuilt to produce high quality coated magazine paper. Where 30 men used to work producing pulp in 1912 today more than 525 are employed.

Mead Dates From 1846

The decision by The Mead corporation to expand the paper mill at Escanaba was based on many years of experience in the business. The Mead name first was connected with the industry when Colonel Daniel E. Mead purchased an interest in the Ells Chaflin and Company of Dayton, Ohio in 1846. A few years later the firm was known as Mead and Nixon. The present position of The Mead corporation is largely due to the leadership of George H. Mead, a grandson of the founder who became president in 1912. Under his direction the company has grown until today it is one of the largest and most diversified manufacturers of pulp, paper and board in the country.

The 14 active manufacturing plants that comprise The Mead corporation, it consolidated subsidiaries, and its unconsolidated affiliates are located in 8 states: Michigan, Ohio, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts. These 14 plants, with a total floor area of over 3,500,000 square feet, spread over 750 acres of land. They are strategically located, of course, in relation to sources of raw materials and to the markets they supply.

The equipment of the corporation's mills includes 33 paper machines; 10 sulphate, soda and groundwood mills; 5 deinking and repulping plants; and 7 coating machines.

The daily capacity of the pulp making equipment is approximately 700 tons. Of the deinking and repulping plants, the daily capacity is 145 tons.

Mead People

Approximately 7,000 men and women make up the family which operates The Mead Corporation, its subsidiaries, and its affiliates, and these loyal workers have established a service record of which any corporation could be proud.

2554 employes have a service record of 5 years or more.
657 employees have a service record of 10 years.
577 employees have a service record of 15 years.
255 employees have a service record of 25 years.
27 employees have a service record of 35 years.
81 employees have a service record of 40 years or more.

More than 98 per cent of the eligible employees enjoy the security of the Mead Retirement Plan, established in 1947.

The corporation is owned by nearly 7,000 shareholders, many of whom are the men and women of Mead.

Mead Products

In 1947, the volume of Mead products sold—more than 522,000 tons—exceeded the sales of any previous year in the corporation's 101-year history.

White paper grades are manufactured in 7 plants, which include the Escanaba Paper Company, with a combined annual capacity of more than 30,000 tons of finished paper. The grades manufactured include coated papers, business papers, and a wide range of magazine, book, and uncoated papers—bond, mimeo, ledger, duplicator, and so forth.

The Brown Paper plants of the corporation have a combined annual capacity of 140,000 tons of corrugating and liner boards used in the manufacture of cigar boxes, packing cases, book covers, and specialties.

The corporation and its subsidiaries have a combined annual capacity of approximately 280,000 barrels of wood and bark extracts for the tanning of leathers.

The corporation's Research and Development Departments have contributed many improvements in processes, developed new processes, and created totally new paper products.

Mead Markets

The end uses of Mead products are so myriad and so varied that every municipality, every industry, every business, every profession, and every man, woman, and child in America is directly influenced by one or more of them every day.

Virtually every type of quality paper required by American business in the manufacture, distribution, packaging, shipping, advertising, and merchandising of its products and services is made by Mead plants for letterpress, offset lithography, and photogravure printers.

A vast tonnage of Mead paper is used for text books, school books, and catalogs. Other grades are manufactured for magazines, waxing, bond and tablet, covers, index, decorated calendars, photo mounts, greeting cards.

Functional papers are created exclusively for the packaging of consumer products that must be protected against every conceivable threat, such as moisture, gas, grease, heat and cold.

Escanaba Is Center For Rail Transport

The terminal for one of the first railroads in the Upper Peninsula, Escanaba today is served by three railroads and continues emminent in the rail transportation picture in Northern Michigan. Escanaba's first railroad was the Peninsular Railway to Negaunee, completed in 1864 and purchased by the Chicago & North Western.

The three railroads now serving the Escanaba area are the Chicago & North Western, Escanaba & Lake Superior which connects with the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific at Channing; and the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie railroad.

Escanaba Stores Have Values For Saddle Shoe Set

By TEEN AGER

Whether they're junior teens just entering high school or sophisticated high teens, Escanaba young ladies can always make an "A" grade in appearance after outfitting their wardrobes at Escanaba's "teen-wise' shops.

It's easy to be a popular "korduroy kween" when you can find all styles in raincoats, suits, skirts, slacks and jackets in a galaxy of colors. Escanaba stores cater to the teen-agers' love for variety in their stock of three-way jackets and coats. Wear them with that new full back, wear them semi-belted, or if you seek a trim silhouette, belt them completely.

That Casual Look

If it's that casual look you're seeking, it's easy to find the wool skirt or dress and matching stole that suits just you. Exciting plaids and the new fall colors are featured. Drape the stole comfortably about your shoulders and you're a picture of perfection.

Are you style-conscious and yet do you lean toward the practical side? The answer to your prayers is to be found in the washable wool jersey skirts with matching blouses. Horizontally-striped, the skirts feature yards and yards of material, while the long-sleeved blouses set off your cute figure to an advantage.

If it's scotch ye are, my lass, Escanaba stores give you a nod not only in their delightful wool plaids, but also in their corduroy skirts, with a pocket that features an adorable flap of scotch plaid.

And nylon sweaters, both slip-overs and cardigans, soft and lovely in a rainbow of colors, are yours for a price to suit your budget. They're ever so easy to launder. They dry quick as a wink and retain their shape.

If you're in the coke crowd, a scarf of that design will suit you to a T. Novelty scarfs and delicate patterned ones can be found to suit every budget and taste.

Those "Unmentionables

Teen-agers have really gone overboard for the dainty laced-edged panty and bra sets in blue, yellow, white and black. It's always easy to find a slip which completes this lovely array of unmentionables. And taffeta half-slips in almost every color of the spectrum plus feminine white ones, laced with narrow ribbon of pink or blue, (and matching camisole) are a must in every wardrobe.

And for something new in saddle shoes, the experimental miss will try those with the two-strapped effect. For comfort and that "new look" in flats, the Robin Hood boot, in buff and Sherwood green, is your ticket to style success.

It's easy to see that each and every gal who wishes to make the number one spot on the teen-age style hit parade, will find her goal an easy one to reach when she shops and saves at stores which cater to her every whim.

OWNED FIRST PLANE

The first Escanaba resident to own an airplane was a Curtiss Canuck wartime training plane, bought and flown in 1926 by Walter Arntzen, now president of Pioneer Aviation, Inc., located at the Escanaba airport.

Local Stores Again Offer Real Bargains

Escanaba is stepping out on the retail front again.

A revival of the community-wide merchandising projects, which attracted shoppers from a 100-mile radius, before the war, is being instituted this week with the Greater Escanaba sales promotion. Wearing apparel, household furnishings, notions and other merchandise are in good supply again, and so Escanaba merchants are joining efforts in offering real bargains to the buying public.

Strangely enough, Escanaba went out to win a reputation as a shopping center back in the 30's as a result of expert advice, which turned out well but which also proved to be somewhat fallacious.

An economic survey agency made a study of Escanaba about that time. Its report stated that Escanaba's future lay in the promotion of its retail and wholesale trade. At the same time, the report said that the community's industrial possibilities were almost negligible Several reasons, such as remoteness from markets, shortage of raw materials and untrained labor supply, were cited. But it has been since demonstrated that Escanaba can attract new industries, and can keep them.

Stores Were Modernized

But the advice about retail promotion was good.

Escanaba's stores launched a modernization program. New store fronts were installed, interiors were remodeled and refurbished, and merchandizing methods were improved. Merchants began observing national style trends. They made an effort to show the same merchandise that was being displayed by up-to-date stores in the larger cities.

Merchants started paying more attention to advertising techniques. Their display advertisements in the Escanaba Daily Press became more attractive. People began paying more attention to the ads, admiring their appearance and even commenting upon them at the breakfast table.

Most important of all, however, was the fact that Escanaba stores built for themselves the reputation that outstanding bargains could be found here. When the advertisements stated that a community sale was offering real values to the shoppers, the buying public believed it.

War Hindered Program

Unfortunately, World War II came along to undo much of the good work that had been done in retail promotion in Escanaba. Sales were discouraged, goods became scarce and more expensive.

But now the war is over. Escanaba, having achieved outstanding success in the luring of new industries, despite the advice of experts, is going again to make itself the big shopping center of the Upper Peninsula

The Greater Escanaba Days sales this week promise real bargains to shoppers. It is not just another sale to get rid of slow moving merchandise. Quality goods are to be sold at honest prices.

Rich Autumn Shades In New Season's Fashions

By AMY BOLGER

Whether you are a career woman, a busy home-maker or a bride-elect, aflutter with the multitude of detail connected with that approach to the altar, Escanaba's larger stores and shops have the answer to every need.

This means from the undergarment that has all the charm and grace of grandmother's day plus modern style detail to the bag and gloves you select to complete your ensemble.

Autumn fashions, now on display everywhere, seldom have offered more variety. Nor have they ever been more truly becoming.

Falls coats and suits are first in most shoppers' minds at the minute. The shades are eye-catching —wines, deep green, bronze, rust and warm browns—the colors of the autumn woodlands. And black, of course, which is always smart and always a leader.

The New Grey

This season has brought out a new shade that stops fashion-wise women on their tour of the stores. Call it what you will—elephant gray, charcoal, or dull gray—it really is a dark taupe. It is flattering to the fair as well as to brunet coloring and it welcomes every shade of accessory.

New coats in Escanaba's stores and shops have the new swing or flare back fullness. Most of them are long although a few warm wool shorties are being shown. Many are fur trimmed with luxurious collars to snuggle into when the snow and sleet are whipping your face. All have collars and deep cuffs and pockets are popular features.

One model, particularly appealing to the woman who appreciates a change in style without upsetting the budget, has a detachable belt. Without it the coat is the full, flared back version. With it, the coat becomes a trim, fitted model.

The detachable hood and the zipped in lining are not new but they are very much in the fashion picture again this season, a fact to be doubly thankful for when the temperature does a tailspin.

Gabardine Is Popular

Gabardine is the popular suit material and the shades are similar to the coats, Suit skirts are pencil slim. The jackets are longer. They are trim but the lines are soft and flattering with clever styles details in buttons, pockets and hipline trim.

Wools, jersey and corduroy fashion the new street dresses, in rich shades and colorful plaids, and the two-piece dress is still a favorite. For the cocktail hour or formal occasions, the jewel tones and stunning blacks are made up in faille, moire, taffeta and angel crepe.

Ribbons, veils and feathers trim the hats of the new season. They are as flattering and provocative as the lovely bonnet which grandmother tied on with a dainty bow under her chin. The beret, favorite of many years, is the choice for casual wear. All hats, whatever the type, are either medium or small.

As for footwear, the closed model is back in fashion, although the sandal is still holding its popularity. There is a wide color choice but the smart shopper will probably select one material—suede.

Feminine Detail

Blouses are lovely with soft feminine detail, and the selection of bags and gloves this year is enough in itself to brighten the dullest day, to say nothing of the just-right costume jewelry.

If you are fur-coat minded, you will be delighted with the new sleeve and back fullness, and the wide range of selection from the popular nutria to the luxurious pelts.

And the bride, who is planning a fall wedding, will find the traditional white or ivory satin, still first choice, in Escanaba's stores and shops, styled to fulfill her wedding day dreams and the bridal aides' gowns in the richer colors of the season, deep rose, sapphire blue, and bronze, among them, in taffeta, velvet or satin, as she prefers.

Good Roads Vital To Delta's Rural-Urban Prosperity

The prosperity of the Escanaba community depends in large part upon good roads—good farm-to-market roads that serve both the urban and rural residents of the area. This fact was recognized in Delta county as early as 1895 when the county road commission was organized.

Today the county has a total of 916 miles of roads and highways. Of this total, the county road commission maintains 122 miles of trunklines under contract with the state highway department, and the remaining 794 miles is in the county road system.

The Delta county road commission is composed of Harry Creene of Garden, chairman, Hilding Norstrom of Gladstone, and Henry Wylie of Escanaba. William Karas of Escanaba is superintendent-engineer.

Many improvements have been made in extending new roads, in methods of construction, and in maintenance. Consolidation of schools requiring the transportation of students, and the necessity for milk collection routes and rural mail routes make wintertime snow removal increasingly important.

Escanaba-Made Veneer In Use All Over Globe

Wood veneer uses have branched out into hundreds of new fields since the establishment of the Birds Eye Veneer Co. plant in Escanaba more than 30 years ago, and products of the local mill are in use throughout the world as parts of ships, planes, furniture and musical instruments.

Uses of Escanaba-made veneer run from wallpaper to juke-boxes, and the wide range of uses is reflected in the increased varieties of wood processed at the local factory. From the original standard maple, birch, oak and basswood, the list has lengthened to include pine, poplar, elm, walnut, balm of gilead, ash, cottonwood, sycamore, and a number of foreign woods. The lowly elm, once regarded with scorn by lumbermen, has become a major source of furniture veneer, and sliced quarter-sawed logs have a grain that rivals the choicest oak in beauty.

Hobbists Use Basswood

Basswood veneer has found a steady outlet in the model airplane building hobby. Usually cut one-twentieth of an inch thick, basswood from the Escanaba plant is shipped in sheets to the toy factories where it is sliced up into strips and cut to size for the model plane makers.

Manufacturers of musical instruments, including pianos and juke-boxes, take a sizeable share of the output from the Birds Eye mill. During the war heavy shipments of veneer went into the making of airplane wings and parts, propellors, bomber loading ramps, hospital stretcher handles, and even military hutments.

The Escanaba plant got its name from the peculiar maple timber of dotted grain design known as birds-eye, and became known as the world's largest producer of birds-eye maple veneer. The source of selected birds-eye logs is limited now, but the local plant still turns out this type of veneer when the birds-eye grain turns up n routine shippments of maple to the mill.

Sliced Paper-Thin

Three types of veneer are produced by the Birds Eye company, sliced, sawn and rotary cut veneer. In sliced veneer, peeled quarter-sawed logs are sliced in thin sheets lengthwise as the log moves parallelly down on a long sharp knife, and the sheets may be cut as thin as around one-hundredth of an inch, as they are for special wallpaper production of choice birch woods and fancy-grained varieties. Sawn veneer is also from quarter-sawed logs, and is cut lengthwise on a fine-toothed circular saw in the conventional sawmill manner. Only the heavier veneers, of one-eighth, one-quarter, and five-sixteenths inch thickness and heavier are cut with a saw at the Escanaba plant. In rotary cut veneer, the major product of the Birds Eye, logs turn against sharp knives in lathes, and the log is "unwound" in an endless strip of veneer of the wanted thickness, later cut to size by clippers which are at the ends of conveyors near each cutting lathe.

Before being cut, logs for rotary machines are sawed to desired lengths as they come into the mill on a moving chain, and are then packed in tanks of hot water for processing to toughen the fibre for the lathes and to facilitate peeling. The steamed logs are carefully hand-peeled by crews who also watch for unwanted nails and staples sometimes found in logs which come from farm areas. After the bark is removed the logs go to the lathes, lugs are forced into opposite ends and turning shafts rotate the log against the knives which also cut off strips at the ends of the log to even the length of the long apron of steaming veneer. For slicing, logs are not placed in hot water, but are steamed buried in sawdust tanks.

Over 300 Employed

All veneer shipped from the Escanaba plant is first dried in a battery of driers which carry the sheets through intense heat and fan-propelled air. Special testing devices are provided for checking on moisture content, and usually orders for veneer specify the maximum dryness wanted in the finished product. A crate-making crew works steadily at the plant making crates of various sizes in which the sheets of veneer are packed after grading, sorting and clipping is completed. Shipping of the finished product is both by truck and rail, and logs for the mill come the same way. The Birds Eye last year completed a new 100 by 200 foot warehouse to add to storage facilities.

Leveling off from a wartime high of 380, the employe roster at the Birds Eye is now about 300 and represents one of the major payrolls in the Escanaba area.

Ostrich Feathers Popular Trim

A return to generous use of ostrich feathers in millinery—fitting in with current reminiscent Victorianism, of course—is definitely proven with a report from South America that the pedigree ostrich market is enjoying its biggest volume of business since 1913.

FIRST RAILROAD

The first railroad in the Upper Peninsula was the Peninsula Road, which was later taken over by the Chicago and North Western railway. It ran from Negaunee to Escanaba.

Escanaba Labor Unions Maintain Strike-Free Record Of Many Years

Close cooperation between labor and management in Escanaba has provided a unique history for labor unions here. For the past 10 years there has been neither a strike nor lockout, and prior to the bakers strike in the 1930's, there was a period of over 15 years when there were no serious labor difficulties.

Alex E. St. Cyr, secretary of the Escanaba Trades and Labor council, which acts as liaison unit between business management and labor unions, says that numerous secretaries of Escanaba Labor unions receive many queries from labor officials in other United States cities asking how this is made possible.

"With close cooperation, and realization that labor needs industry and industry labor, amicable wage and hour agreements can be made, and the work kept moving," St. Cyr said.

Among the larger labor unions in this city of 15,000 people, are the Teamsters, Chauffeurs and Warehouse workers; the Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Makers; the Carpenters and Joiners union; the Railroad Brotherhoods and the Federated Shopcraft workers of the railroads.

List of Unions

Among labor unions represented in Escanaba and their secretaries are:

Brotherhood of Railway Clerks—Edwin Kositzky.

Brotherhood of Paper Makers—Anton Abel.

International Brotherhood of Electrical workers—George Abel.

A. F. of L. Carpenters and Joiners—Helen Hayson.

Longshoremen association—Clarence Miller.

Letter Carrier association—Leonard Nelson.

Association of Machinists—J. J. Farrell.

Ladies Garment Workers—Miss Agnes Barbeau.

Brotherhood of Pulp Sulphite and Paper Workers — Joseph Groos.

Carpenters and Joiners, 2983—J. M. Berube.

Brotherhood of Railway Clerks—Peter Meisler.

Fire Fighters association—Hubert McMonagle.

Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way—Donald Rheaume.

Veneer Mill Workers—Albert Johnson.

Municipal, County and State employes—Lawrence Bjorkquist.

Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs and Warehouse workers—Arnold Alsten.

United Auto Yorkers — Earl Haddy.

Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers—Howard Peterson.

Brotherhood of Sheet Metal Workers—Wilfred Belland.

Carpenters and Joiners, 1832—Louis Amundsen.

Barbers—Fred Martell.

Musicians Protective union—Wellington Hinze.

Firemen and Oilers association—E. F. Garbe.

Lodge of Boilermakers—William Van Lester.

Typographical union—John J. McCarthy.

Carpenters and Joiners, 2883.

Railway Brotherhoods

The following rail workers unions and their secretaries are also organized in Escanaba.

Brotherhood of Railway Firemen—Carl W. Richter.

Brotherhood of Railway Enginemen—Charles Pariseau.

Brotherhood of Railway Conductors—R. R. Finley.

Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen—M. G. Heath.

Brotherhood of Railway Clerks—George Strom.

Brotherhood of Railway Carmen—Victor Nelson.

Other unions in Escanaba include the Plasterers and Masons-CIO, CIO Harnischfeger employees, and the Supervisors association for railway workers.

The majority of Escanaba unions belong to the American Federation of Labor, which also has the Escanaba Trades and Labor council as an affiliate.

The Trades and Labor Council works for close cooperation among union members and acts as a liaisosn unit between the city government, the businessmen and management and the various labor unions. One of their more public duties is perpetuation of Labor Day celebrations to honor the American working man.

The Trades and Labor council Escanaba, organized in 1916, maintains membership in the Chamber of Commerce, and is well represented in city government.

H. C. Nicholson, president of the Trades and Labor Council, is a member of the board of appeals; Alex E. St. Cyr, secretary of the council, is vice chairman of the planning commission; Einar Erlandsen is a member of the recreation commission, and Peter Logan, a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Firemen, is on the city council.

Other officers of the Trades and Labor Council are Emil Neuman, vice-president and Charles Priester, treasurer.

NEW INDUSTRY UTILIZES ASPEN

Wells Crate Co. Latest Wood Working Plant

The Wells Crate and Lumber company, latest addition to the wood working industry in the Escanaba area, provides a reliable market for one of the most abundant species of timber in the north woods, aspen or "popple" as it is commonly called.

The Wells Crate and Lumber company plant is established in the tannery location at Wells, adjacent to the Bay Foundry. The plant was established here only recently and has not yet reached its productive capacity.

Recently installed in the factory is a modern high speed sawmill, said to be the fastest type sawmill in the country. It is geared to cut 35,000 feet of lumber in a single eight-hour shift. The mill cuts the log in two and both halves are fed through the machine at the same time, permitting the simultaneous cutting of lumber of two different sizes.

Bernard Van Harbin is superintendent of the plant at Escanaba.

The mill will produce crates of all kinds, particularly crating for such commodities as refrigerators, ranges, etc. It is planned to establish a dimension industry as a part of the company's operations later.

The plant will require two carloads of aspen daily.

Solar Furniture Company Employs 50 Persons Here

The Solar Furniture company, wholly-owned subsidiary of the Philip Reinisch company, Chicago, is one of the industrial firms brought to Escanaba under the industrial expansion program of the Chamber of Commerce and the City of Escanaba.

The plant, then owned by Jack L. Jacobson, began operations here in the spring of 1944, occupying a city-owned building that at one time was utilized by the Chicago and North Western railroad.

Today the company employs between 45 and 50 persons and manufactures at least 50 items of occasional furniture, such as lamp tables, coffee tables, end tables, etc.

The Solar plant occupies 20,000 feet of floor space and operates its own dry kilns and its dimension stock.

The Philip Reinisch company purchased the Solar company last December 15. Although this is the only factory owned by the Philip Reinisch company, which is a sales firm, the company purchases the entire manufactured output of 12 additional factories.

The local products are shipped throughout the United States and U. S. territories.

Sawyer and Stoll Leads in Pulpwood

The Sawyer and Stoll company of Escanaba is one of the largest pulpwood jobbers in the United States.

The company was incorporated in 1922, and Carl Sawyer and Charles Stoll, who founded it, are still active in its management.

The firm furnishes pulpwood to most of the paper mills in Michigan and Wisconsin. It also has lumbering operations in Canada.

U. EXTENSION OFFICE IN CITY

Varied Cultural Activities Offered Here

To bring cultural opportunities and in-service professional training to resident of Upper Peninsuing to residents of Upper Peninsula office of the Extension Service of the University of Michigan was established at Escanaba on July 1, 1947. Charles Follo of Escanaba is supervisor of this area.

Under the auspices of this office, a branch of the Audio-Vision center of Ann Arbor has been established here, with 100 educational films at the disposal of schools and clubs.

Each fall, the U. P. Extension service office conducts a course in education for teachers, with 250 to 300 teachers throughout the peninsula enrolled. Escanaba is one of six centers.

Last spring Escanaba was one of five centers for a series of lectures by six members of the U of M. political science department called "The United States in World Affairs." This was a non-credit course and approximately 450 people in five centers were enrolled. Another similar course will be conducted for Escanaba and this area this spring.

The extension service conducted an "Our Community Tomorrow" institute in Chippewa, Delta and Dickinson counties last winter. A staff of ten from the U. of M. and Michigan State college visited these three places for a two-day institute for the purpose of bringing information to the leaders of the counties relative to the problems selected as the most important facing communities. The discussions of Delta county, were given in Escanaba.

This summer, a "Conference on Contemporary Trends" was presented by the extension office. Lectures and discussions were made on the fields of politics, business, literature, music and the fine arts. Escanaba was one of four centers, the others being Houghton, Ironwood and Sault Ste. Marie.

Escanaba Is Known As Community Of Churches

Escanaba is a community of churches and it is proud of the fact, although it takes it for granted as any progressive city does, that it offers a church home for all of its people.

Practically all leading denominations are represented and every parish is active, its services ministering the spiritual needs and its affiliated organizations offering social contacts and opportunties for welfare work and other worth-while projects to every member of the family.

That is something that the older residents of Escanaba accept as a part of community life. But it is something in which the newcomer to Escanaba finds an immediate welcome into the affairs of his new home city.

Escanaba has four Catholic parishes, St. Joseph's, St. Anne's, St. Patrick's and St. Thomas'; Seventh Day Adventist, Calvary Baptist, Christian Science, St. Stephen's Episcopal, Evangelical Covenant Lutheran, Bethany Evangelical Lutheran, Salem Evangelical Lutheran, Free Methodist, Immanuel Lutheran, Central Methodist, First Methodist, First Presbyterian, Pentecostal Assembly and the Salvation Army.

Each has its women's organizations, men's clubs, and youth groups with well formulated programs of activities.

Reindeer originally were native to northern Europe and Siberia.

ADULT SCHOOL POPULAR HERE

Many Take Advantage Of Courses

That people in all walks of life might further themselves in social-civic, home and family living, avocational-cultural and vocational affairs an adult education program was introduced in Escanaba four years ago.

Escanaba was chosen as one of several communities to receive 75 per cent subsidization from the state for a three year period. Last year, the program was financed wholly by the Escanaba board of education and the nominal registration fees. This year a subsidy, but in a small amount will be received from the state.

At one time as many as 500 people were enrolled in this program. Under the auspices of the adult education school, writing ectures, library lectures by professors, lectures on legal affairs by local lawyers, and child development lectures by Northern Michigan College of Education professors have been presented.

The SPEBSQSA, which is a thriving Escanaba organization had its beginnings under the adult education program in the form of a barbershop quartet singing class.

This fall, the week of Oct. 10, the adult education program will begin its fifth year, with 14 classes definitely scheduled and other tentative ones being considered.

Classes scheduled are art, archery, bookkeeping for small businesses, furniture repair and carpentry, fly fishing, knitting and yarncraft, machine shop, sewing, Swedish, English, typing, welding, woodworking and home furnishing and decoration.

Most classes meet at the Escanaba junior high school, while some are instructed at the senior high school building.

Tentative plans for radio forums and lectures by college professors are being made for the 1948-49 adult education season.

Livestock Once Roamed Streets

Livestock apparently caused much confusion on Escanaba's streets back in the eighties.

An ordinance of 1888 says: "That all horses, asses, mules, cattle, goats, swine and geese are hereby prohibited from running at large or being at large within the limits of the city of Escanaba. The provision of the foregoing section shall not be deemed to apply to milch cows during the daytime."

31 INDUSTRIES EMPLOY 1,645

North Western Railway Has 900 Workers

A total of 1,645 persons are employed in 31 industrial establishments in the field of transportation and utilities, according to a report compiled by the Michigan State Employment Service.

Service establishments furnish employment to 830; government offices, 457; and construction, 250.

Governmental employers include 5 federal, state and local agencies, performing legislative, administrative and judicial functions. Construction establishments, which total 40, include only those firms engaged in building on a contract basis for others.

There are 150 service establishments in Escanaba. Included in this division are hotels, lodging places, personal business, repair and amusement services, medical, legal and engineering services, educational institutions, non-profit membership organizations and various other services.

The transportion - utilities division includes the following: Railway freight and passenger service; highway, water and air; telephone, telegraph and radio communication; concerns supplying electricity, gas, steam and water. Of the 1,246 persons engaged in this division 900 are employed by the Chicago and North Western Railway.

These figures cover only employment within the Escanaba city limits.

ORE SHIPPING FOUNDED CITY

Industry Oldest, Most Stable In Escanaba

Iron ore shipments from Escanaba this year will total about 4,500,000 tons and add convincing proof to the community's reputation as the rail and water transportation center of Northern Michigan.

The two Chicago & North Western ore docks in Escanaba this year will handle the largest tonnage of any peacetime year since 1929, indicating the nation's peak demand for red dust to feed the gigantic steel industry. The docks here have been busier than in any season in the postwar period and ore shipments in 1948 will go nearly a half million tons above last year's total.

The importance of iron ore to the nation's economy is indicated in renewed speculation on the possibility that steel may be rationed to industries in 1949. Ore production has never been higher in any peacetime year, yet steel shortages have plagued many of the major industries.

First To Open

This year it is expected that over 80,000,000 tons of iron ore will be shipped from the upper Great Lakes region. Most of this will come from the Mesabi range and be loaded at Lake Superior ports.

While the tonnage shipped from Escanaba may seem slight compared with the total, it is highly important because the shipments from the C&NW docks here start earlier in the year than from any other port and supply ore to the smelters at a time when stockpiles have been exhausted. Use of the U. S. Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw in the last several years has opened the Escanaba harbor to ore shipping at an earlier date than would otherwise have been possible.

Lee McMillan, C&NW dock agent, reported that to Sept. 1 this year a total of 3,087,191 tons of ore has been shipped from the Escanaba.

This is an increase of 367,800 tons above last year for the same period.

Founded A City

Escanaba's history dates back to 1863 and the construction of ore docks and a connecting railroad to the iron mines of the Marquette range. The city's foundation is built on iron ore, for from the transportation of ore grew the industry that has continued constantly in operation for 84 years.

Iron ore shipped from Escanaba went into weapons used in the Civil War, and during the first World War ore shipments set a record that has not yet been exceeded. Shipments went up again in late 1920 boom period and then dropped off in the depression of the '30's.

Today the trend is again upward after a slump following the heavy shipments during the last war, and this trend is expected to continue because of the strong demand for steel.

Before the season ends this year the ore carriers will load an estimated 400,000 tons more than they did in 1947 and the total for the year is expected to go as high as 4,500,000 tons. The handling of ore is one of Escanaba's most stable and oldest industries.

Navy Black Debut

An exciting color combination makes its debut: Midnight navy teamed with black. Subtly this treatment is followed in navy suits with black fur collars and pockets. Row upon row of small black beads encircle the high rounded neckline of a navy crepe afternoon dress. For daytime wear, a rich wine toned black tulip ensemble is touched with pink.

Bold Look Features Men's Wear Fashions

Bold, masculine and related is the fashion theme in men's apparel this fall and winter. Versile, rugged, easy-going clothing, coordinated as to color and desining, is the big news in the clothing marts of both coasts and on the backs of well-groomed men everywhere. The latest in men's apparel is offered in Escanaba stores this week during the Great-Escanaba Days sales.

Consumer acceptance of last spring's test run of the new fashion for men, The Bold Look, has been so gratifying and demand for more of the same so great that apparel manufacturers have supplemented the original test shirts, ties, shoes, socks, jewelry and handkerchiefs with complete ensembles from suits and coats inward, from shoes upward and from hats down.

The Bold Look is easier, more casual, fuller-chested and longer-lined. Rugged detailing, massive stitching, husky fabrics and manly colors all add up to a new, dominant, self-confident appearance for the American male, a look evocative of the pioneering traditions of this country and of the world leadership which its men have assumer. Most important, The Bold Look is a related fashion, a fashion in which every single item is specifically designed to go with every other item. When the well-dressed man steps out in his Bold Look this fall, he knows for sure that he looks right because everything he puts on his back has been fully coordinated as to cut, color and details.

His tie bar and cuff links go together and both are massively designed to go with the husky look of Bold Look ties and shirts and even with the wide-bordered handkerchief in his chest pocket which matches all the other parts of his ensemble. In a phrase, The Bold Look puts the square pegs in the square holes.

New Colors Featured

Five new colors are featured in The Bold Look for fall. They are: Navion Blue, a lighter than navy shade; Walnut Brown, a deep, rich, full-bodied color; Granoc Grey, evocative of the pure, clean tone of granite cliffs; Ecorn, a shirt color which combines the best features of tan and pale yellow and Midnight Moroc, a deep, reddish-toned brown that for the first time looks equally well with brown, blue and grey suits.

Built around these colors is the Fall Bold Look. Suits are more easily and more casually cut. These suits are designed to make the masculine chest and shoulders fuller and broader and the masculine waist-line narrower.

The Bold Look in hats takes the form of new and flattering styles and colors. In Walnut Brown, Navion Blue, Granoc Grey and Willow shades, The Bold Look hat has a dashing, rakish air. Hat bodies contrast with the suits but the binding and/or the band come in colors which exactly match the suits.

Bold Look shirts are characterized by their loose, easy lines and by the husky stitching of collar, cuffs and center pleat, set in a half-inch from the edge. Chief among the Bold Look shirt styles is the Command Collar, a wide-spread collar with a broad opening to take a large Windsor knot. Rounded points and button-downs, with the same characteristic stitching are also part of The Bold Look. The chief shirt color is Ecorn, a shade definite enough to stand on its own but muted enough to provide a perfect background for Bold patterned ties.

Attractive Ties

Speaking of ties, we have clean, sharp patterns . . . Bold but neat. The classic miniature designs of foulard ties have been blown up to major proportions and the biggest news is the Doubloon Dot, a man-sized coin dot fully an inch in diameter, casually spaced against contrasting backgrounds. Broad clear stripes are also appropriate to The Bold Look.

Shoes are massive and heavily decorated. Whether for town, suburban or country wear, the rugged-looking wing-tip, medallion-tip or moccasion-type shoe is in the swing of fashion—and all styles are larger and more masculine than ever before. Color-wise the shoes are news too. Midnight Moroc, the shade that goes with anything, takes over in shoe uppers. Soles and heels are black.

Set against these husky shoes are socks as Bold as the checks in a gambler's vest. Big diamond patterns in contrasting colors, clean-lined box checks and heavy 10 x 4 ribs all lend an air of authority to the male ankle.

In jewelry, the trend is toward the massive—and the more massive, the better. Some of the Bold Look tie bars, cuff lings and key chains are in gold, some in leather—but all are bigger than ever before. Rope patterns, simple but large discs, patterns—all go with the rest of The Bold Look ensemble.

Pajamas are designed for complete comfort and show their Bold Look origins in broad stripes and large dots. The Doubloon Dot pattern, by the way, is repeated in a handsome set of suspenders and garters and in an all silk muffler.

Belts have gold stitching at the edges and large buckles. Handkerchiefs are wide-bordered. Even wallets and carrying cases are bigger, roomier and more generously cut than ever before.

The American Male

In its most general terms, men's fashion has come of age in this country. Designers, manufacturers and retailers no longer look to other cultures for their inspiration. They have found it here in the personality of the American Male, in his easy-going, self-confident manner, in the cities he has built, the bridges he has flung across America's rivers and harbors, in the fields he cultivates and the skyscrapers he has constructed.

When the American Man steps out in The Bold Look, he can be sure that he is dressed in the best of taste, that he is perfectly groomed, that every item of his apparel goes with every other item and most important—that he is wearing apparel that is right for him because it was designed for him, right for him because it calls attention to the man, rather than to his clothes.

Coat Fullness

The woman underneath the coat must appear slim whether she is or not: Fullness is to the front or back, never at the hip. Sleeves are deep, collars large, shoulders slightly padded. Suits have hip length jackets that stand slightly away from the hip without the aid of padding. Coat fabrics are usually deep fleeces, heavy suedecloth, broadcloth, especially designed confined tweeds. All are foil for the lavish use of fur. Suit fabrics are soft and bulkless and often dyed to match the coatings. Color throughout many of the coat and suit collections is almost always either neutral or muted, to aid the wearing of any color accessory. In the princess lines of some of the fitted coats, in the double and cape collars, in the deep sleeves, and in the use of buttons and seam detailing, there is often a suggestion of the English regency period.

TIE TREATING PLANT IS BUSY

110 Men Employed At C&NW Industry

One hundred and ten men are now employed at the Chicago and North Western railway's wood preserving plant, which during the next 2 months will treat about one million ties and from three to four million feet of bridge timbers.

The tie plant, established here in 1903, has been one of Escanaba's stable industries the past 45 years.

According to H. L. Holderman, superintendent, the plant obtains approximately a half million ties each year from the Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin, and the remainder from the South. Native woods are the oak, beech, birch, maple, hemlock and pine. Shipped in from Arkansas, Missouri, Mississippi and other parts of the South are southern pine, gum and oak.

Mr. Holderman said the C&NW railway quit buying aspen ties two years after the wartime tie shortage was ended. Aspen was used in wartime on lightly - traveled spur and branch lines. Chief objection to the popple tie is that it is prone to decay while seasoning. Without preservative treatment, railway ties would last only from three to six years. With treatment, oak ties will survive about 35 years; gum, 28 years; and hemlock, 22 years.

Most interesting development in the tie treating industry in recent years was the Taylor-Colquit vapor drying process. Whereas it requires from six to 12 months to season ties in the yards, the Taylor-Quit process permits the reduction of green ties to a dry state in about 18 hours. Heavy cost of installing the equipment, however, has delayed the installation of this process on an extensive scale.

For years, eight feet was the standard length for ties, but in recent years the tendency has been to go to greater lengths to provide better roadbeds for the heavier trains. Eight and a half feet is now the standard length on the C&NW railway, and some roads have adopted a nine foot tie.

Timesless Dresses

Strapless or long sleeved, some dresses designed for big nights this winter are of the timeless type. Some are in fragile laces, others in striped taffetas, and several combine lace with sheer wool. Among the loveliest is an eggshell silk satin with cuffed and strapless bodice and a very wide skirt. Black velvet ribbon encircles the waistline and ties into an exaggerated bowknot embroidered with jet paillettes on the front of the skirt.

Power Company Started in 1907

Organized in 1907, the Upper Michigan Power and Light company, formerly known as the Escanaba Power company, has expanded until today it serves not only the electrical needs of Escanaba and Gladstone, but also various townships in Delta and Marquette counties.

The power company also was affiliated with the Escanaba Street Electric Railway, which was organized in 1892 by James Lillie, J. B. Moran and J. K. Stack. The street cars quit in 1932.

Numerous Escanaba Fraternal And Social Groups Provide Fellowship And Social Aid

Numerous fraternal and social organizations in Escanaba provide a heavy measure of good fellowship and constructive social activities for hundreds of Escanabans.

As in most other cities in the United States brotherhood organizations and those for women find strong favor here.

Among organizations for men in Escanaba, in addition to religious and quasi-religious groups, are the Eagles, Elks, Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions clubs, Odd Fellows, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, United Spanish War veterans, Disabled American War Veterans, and Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Women in Escanaba have for years been organized in a Business and Professional Women's club. Escanaba Women's club Daughters of the American Revolution, Beta Sigma Phi, the P.E.O Sisterhood, the Order of Eastern Star, auxiliaries of the D. A. V., V. F. W., and American Legion.

Other active social organizations in the city include a volunteer Red Cross corps, Junior Red Cross, United Commercial Travelers, Camera Club, and Art Group, and an organization for foreign war brides sponsored by the D. A. R.

Entertaining and instructive programs are usually provided by clubs for their members and much social assistance is carried out through these organizations. National campaigns for funds for worthwhile purposes and local drives receive much help from these organizations.
